

Today RUBY AND CAROL SAFE TO SEPARATE

When Darkness Lasts Forever
Digestion and Gains
Oysters Return
Poor Little Yak. It Died
—By Arthur Brisbane

LIGHT WAS GRADUALLY shut off from the earth; darkness over a narrow belt of land, lasted a minute and a half, everybody was impressed.
Some day our sun will die and darkness will cover over the earth to last forever, or until the earth breaks up to be reassembled elsewhere billions of years later.

And nobody takes that seriously.
We have little imagination only today, tomorrow and yesterday interest us.

No more eclipses here until November, when a dark donkey will shut out a shining elephant, or vice versa.

In Europe there is a sudden eclipse of hope for peaceful agreement about armaments and such things.
Germany unexpectedly demands the right to build up a great army, "for protection" of course, and France is greatly agitated. French statesmanship could not expect the Germans to endure forever helplessness and humiliation.
The French did not do so after 1870 and Sedan.

It is important for you to know that good digestion, and SWIFT digestion, are important to evolution, which is another word for progress. Dr. C. M. Yonge tells the British Association for the Advancement of Science about it.

Low form of animal life and human life have little hope of mental improvement, because getting their food and digesting it takes nearly all their time. The higher races of carnivorous men have ruled the world, because their food has been quickly procured and digested, leaving leisure for thinking and planning.

That interests vegetarians especially. The time and energy they waste, extracting nourishment from vegetables, robs them of mental opportunity.

This is how it works: Nature spends millions of years changing rock into soil. Earthworms chew the soil and make it fertile.
Grass grows slowly. The cow eats the grass and spends two to four years producing a beef steak.

Man eats the best steak and digests it in all an hour, and has 23 hours of the day for "higher evolution."

Some of Europe's most beautiful lines (off of the boat that brings back the sheep and the steak) bring back the child to its mother.

Another pleasant hour is the beginning of September, that brings back the Blue Point and the Cape Cod and all the other oysters, including the giants harvested near Baltimore.

William H. Rags, who finds out about oysters for the General Food Corporation, supplies information that makes the humble oyster seem more important than the dinosaur.

The oyster crop of 20,000,000 bushels is worth $15,000,000, employing many thousands of men.
The oyster is unlike the automobile, cow, sheep, or chicken, in that there has never been an oyster over-production.

Modern quick-freezing methods make fresh oysters available all year round, but their food value is very great.

California has oysters the size of your thumb and the England eat oysters that taste of copper, excellent, when you are used to them.

They say the first man that swallowed an oyster was brave.
The man who does not eat them now is foolish.

Sad to announce, that—baby yak, born during the eclipse and named "Clips" by its keepers, is dead. It lived only one night.
The keepers say it was killed by birth. They do not think the name or the eclipse had anything to do with its shortness of life.

J. B. S. Haldane, a British scientist, says the perfect man can never exist. There must be different kinds of men, each
"the best" in his own way.

An oyster could not have imagined a caveman, a man could not have imagined the pilot of an airplane, a Haldane, with all his intelligence, could not imagine the perfect man, who would be BALANCED man.

That perfect man, possessing in one brain all the knowledge available on earth, with an absolute sense of justice, would soon day exist.

According to scientists, his head will be nearly a perfect sphere, very little of the circumference would be eyes, ears, nose, swallowing apparatus
—the part we call a "face."
"It isn't just a head," says Haldane, "it is a head and what we shall be." Predictions are futile. The perfect man would probably seem to us dull.
The nearly perfect man (you meet him occasionally) is dull enough.

Time, with its daylight and darkness, can be used in many ways. At Whitefield, New Hampshire, thieves rob a hotel
Continued on Page 2, Column 6

WEATHER

Partly cloudy and somewhat cool tonight and Saturday, probably followed by showers of rain Sunday; moderate west to north winds.
High tide, 12:35 a. m.; 1 P. M.

The American is the only Boston daily paper receiving University
Service and International News Service dispatches plus Associated Press.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK

Largest Evening Circulation in New England—By More Than 75,000

VOL. 20—No. 141 PUBLISHED BY 55 State Street, Boston, P. O. BOSTON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1932 2 CENTS PHONE 3 CENTS

GOVERNOR PARDON AGED LEP

SMILING JIMMY WEEPS

Carts Dead Baby to Dole Board

'YOU KILLED HER!' CRIES FATHER

SEPARATE IN PEACE

Garner Stamps Himself As a True American

ELY READY TO SIGN PARDON FOR LIFER

STOCKS RISE $1 TO $4 A SHARE

HOOPER AID BARES DRIVE TO EXTEND MORATORIUM

GOOD NEWS

THE GARNER LETTER ADDS WEIGHT AND DIGNITY TO THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

FIND MAN IN WEEDS

NEWTON WOMAN GETS SHARE OF $223,648

DEAD BESIDE RIFLE

THE GARNER LETTER ADDS WEIGHT AND DIGNITY TO THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

FIND MAN IN WEEDS

NEWTON WOMAN GETS SHARE OF $223,648

DEAD BESIDE RIFLE

THE GARNER LETTER ADDS WEIGHT AND DIGNITY TO THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

FIND MAN IN WEEDS

NEWTON WOMAN GETS SHARE OF $223,648

DEAD BESIDE RIFLE

THE GARNER LETTER ADDS WEIGHT AND DIGNITY TO THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

FIND MAN IN WEEDS

NEWTON WOMAN GETS SHARE OF $223,648

DEAD BESIDE RIFLE

Jobless Springfield Man Says Plea for a Doctor Ignored; a Quart of Milk for Six

Springfield, Sept. 2.—For three miles along Main st., today, a penniless father, grim of visage, wheeled the body of his month old daughter in a baby carriage—and then deposited it on a counter in the City Hall office of the welfare board.

'You killed her,' he said in an official of the department, 'and then turned me his head and stalked grimly out.'

He was Paul Stefanowicz of 74½ Washington st., father of six other children who divide among them one quart of milk a day, allotted by the welfare board.

The month-old baby had died from malnutrition, according to a medical Examiner Carl A. Schindler, and the father later charged to police that a welfare department doctor had ignored his request last Tuesday for a doctor.

For months, according to Stefanowicz, he has been out of work and the family has been receiving a quart of milk a day, 38 worth of groceries a week and $2 a week in cash.

The baby, Valdis, was born August 7 in the Almshouse hospital and was progressing when it returned home with the mother, he said.

On Tuesday the father notified the welfare department visitor that the baby was falling and asked for a doctor, as he had no money to pay for the doctor.

Today the infant refused its feeding and lay listless in its mother's arms. Fearing that it would die, the father placed the baby in a carriage and wheeled it to Springfield Hospital.

Although Stefanowicz said the infant was alive when he left home, it was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Sing Lee, 45, of Beach st., Boston, who conducts a Chinese laundry in Cliffside, was the other victim. Lee, police said, lighted a match near a can of gasoline.

Two victims of accidents that happened yesterday died in Lynn Hospital today, one from scalds and the other from a horse.

The victim of scalds was William Bodge, 13 months, who was visiting a Lynn friend with his mother, Mrs. Edward Bodge of Castle st., Nahant. A kettle of boiling water overturned upon him.

The victim was described as 33 to 35, five feet ten inches tall, with black hair, light complexion and smooth shaven throat.

He wore overall, black low shoes and a white shirt. On the left hand was a wedding ring bearing the inscription: "June 3, 1928, M. F. C. to W. J. W."

The victim was described as 33 to 35, five feet ten inches tall, with black hair, light complexion and smooth shaven throat.

He wore overall, black low shoes and a white shirt. On the left hand was a wedding ring bearing the inscription: "June 3, 1928, M. F. C. to W. J. W."

The victim was described as 33 to 35, five feet ten inches tall, with black hair, light complexion and smooth shaven throat.

He wore overall, black low shoes and a white shirt. On the left hand was a wedding ring bearing the inscription: "June 3, 1928, M. F. C. to W. J. W."

The victim was described as 33 to 35, five feet ten inches tall, with black hair, light complexion and smooth shaven throat.

He wore overall, black low shoes and a white shirt. On the left hand was a wedding ring bearing the inscription: "June 3, 1928, M. F. C. to W. J. W."

The victim was described as 33 to 35, five feet ten inches tall, with black hair, light complexion and smooth shaven throat.

He wore overall, black low shoes and a white shirt. On the left hand was a wedding ring bearing the inscription: "June 3, 1928, M. F. C. to W. J. W."

The victim was described as 33 to 35, five feet ten inches tall, with black hair, light complexion and smooth shaven throat.

He wore overall, black low shoes and a white shirt. On the left hand was a wedding ring bearing the inscription: "June 3, 1928, M. F. C. to W. J. W."

Garner Stamps Himself As a True American

By BAINBRIDGE COLBY

A CAMPAIGN document of high value and importance is the letter in which John N. Garner accepts the Democratic nomination for Vice-President.

It has the breadth of a statesman, and the comprehensiveness of a survey, in dealing with the major problems of the day, which we naturally expect from one who has served the nation so long and so ably, as has the present Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Forthrightness, clarity and the courage of mature and tested convictions mark it—from beginning to end.

His references to the huge growth of bureaucracy in Washington, "a structure of administration, vast beyond the imagination—complex, involved and inco-ordinated; a fabric of bureaus, commissions, boards and departments that overlap and interfere one with the other, AND ALL AT THE COST OF THE PEOPLE," will have a mighty response from the tax-oppressed millions of Americans, who are clamoring for a simplification of government and relief from the intolerable weight of its expense.

REPUBLICAN responsibility for the unbalanced budget and the unchecked growth of our national deficit is driven home in simple and telling phrase.

The "highest tariff in the country's history," resulting in loss of trade, shut-down factories, unemployment, and a decline in the standard of living, naturally occupies a prominent place in Mr. Garner's arraignment of Republican misrule.

But it is in the passage of his letter dealing with debt cancellation and prohibition that the sturdy and unequivocal utterance of this typical American is most agreeably revealed.

Here are burning issues. Weak men of the political stripe flee from them. Weasel words and balanced platitudes suffice for them.

But not for John Garner! He tells you where he stands.

"I OPPOSE CANCELLATION," says he, CLEARLY AND DEFINITELY.

This is exactly what one would expect of a clear-eyed American, who can readily see through the clumsy conspiracy of the international bankers to line their purses at the expense of the American tax-payer, and without regard to the latter's rights, equities or interests.

On prohibition, says the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, "WE STAND COMMITTED TO REPEAL," and he gives voice to the contempt which every right-thinking man feels for the panicky evasion and tortuous verbosity under which the Republican party sought cover on this vital question.

THE Garner letter adds weight and dignity to the Democratic campaign. It is the expression of the mind that combines with a just conservatism of a judgment a penetrating and vital sense of actualities.

It is American to the core, and in the true faith and tradition of liberal democracy.

FIND MAN IN WEEDS

Newton Woman Gets Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

Share of $223,648

ELY READY TO SIGN PARDON FOR LIFER

Governor Indicates He Will Act at the Council Meeting Next Wednesday

READ this amazing story of an old man who has gone to prison for life because he stole a pair of shoes. Then write the Boston Evening American your opinion whether Gov. Ely and the council should grant him a full pardon.

Picture on Page 3

Gov. Ely notified the Boston Evening American today that he was prepared to act at once on any formal petition seeking a pardon for Frank Howard, 72, of Medford, who was returned to State Prison for life last Tuesday because he stole a pair of shoes.

The governor, talking from his Westfield home to his secretary Dewitt DeWolfe, at the request of the Boston Evening American, signified his willingness to give immediate consideration to Howard's case.

The plight of the aged man, as revealed exclusively in the Boston Evening American, was made known to the governor by a letter which was one of sympathetic understanding, indicating that when he meets with the council next Wednesday he will sever the red tape and set Howard free.

BARRY HEADS PLEA

Circulation of a petition asking for pardon for Howard was begun today by former Lieut. Gov. Edwin R. Barry who, as governor 18 days ago, signed Howard's pardon under parole conditions after he had served 17 years.

Continued on Page 4, Column 8

Today's American

American Pattern Page 16

Beatrice Fairfax Page 16

Betty Aldrich's Society Page 15

Classified Ads Page 23

Crested Wren Page 16

Carlton's Column Page 2

Continental Fund Page 16

Daily Star Story Page 18

Death Notices Page 25

Edmund's Advice Page 16

Edith Gurnea's Poem Page 24

Edith Gurnea's Poem Page 24

Edith Gurnea's Poem Page 24

Edith Gurnea's Poem Page 24

WALKER SURE FOR RE-ELECTION

WALKER SURE FOR RE-ELECTION

293 Miles Per Hour

By COLLIER FRANKLIN

FRANCE SEEKS COPPEL KEY

Who Interest You That They Are Doing

WALKER'S RESIGNATION

New York, Sept. 2.—Mayor James J. Walker will run for re-election at the forthcoming general election in November, it was strongly indicated today. Thus he will lose no time in seeking immediate vindication by the people of the charges directed at him and his administration by Samuel Seabury.

City Clerk Michael J. Cruise announced he had certified to the board of elections that a vacancy exists in the office of mayor and that it shall be filled at the general election on Nov. 8.

Walker will be a candidate to fill that "vacancy" of his own creation. He resigned last night, dramatically, by declaring he was not being accorded a fair "trial" at the hearing before Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Albany and announcing he would submit his case to the supreme authority—the people.

Kerrigan Resigns Mayor's Assistant

Reputations came thick and fast. Charles F. Kerrigan, personal assistant of Walker, resigned his $17,500 job as assistant to the mayor.

Kerrigan laid his written resignation on the desk of Mayor Joseph V. McKee, who has automatically succeeded Walker, and resigned significantly.

"It's only temporary," said the Mayor. "I am not resigning. I am only taking a leave of absence. I am going to stay in Albany for a few days and then I will return to my office."

Advices of Mayor McKee today predicted the next majority election would be the subject of litigation. Two things make the situation confusing. They are:

Provision of the statutes that in the event of a vacancy before Nov. 15, it shall be filled at the next general election.

Provision in the state constitution that municipal elections shall be held only in "odd" years.

Fact since a widespread opinion that the statute would be without effect since it contradicts the constitution.

The communication of city clerk Michael J. Cruise to the board of elections, regarding the vacancy, was dated Sept. 2, 1932.

"In accordance with section 69 of the election law, I hereby certify to you that there is a vacancy for the office of mayor of the city of New York, to be voted for at the general election, November 8, 1932."

Cruise sent a copy to the corporation counsel, Arthur J. W. Hilly, and had not conferred with the city clerk, who was closeted with Mayor McKee this morning at the time he sent the communication.

Walker's Resignation Relief to Roosevelt

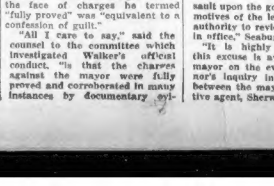

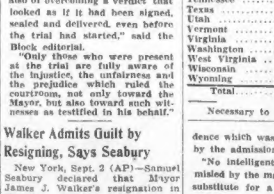

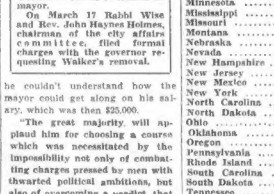

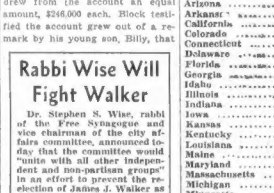

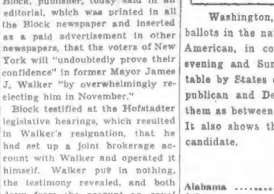

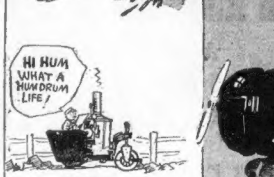

It was argued in political circles that the city clerk's certification of a vacancy merely permitted McKee to step into the shoes of the former mayor, leaving only between the time that Walker filed his resignation and the time that McKee was notified of the fact.

The point as to whether a vacancy continues to exist, the political leaders said, can only be decided in the courts.

Mayor Walker's resignation came as a complete surprise and relief to Governor Roosevelt. Friends of the governor indicated that he would vigorously deny the mayor's claim that he had not received a "fair trial," and reported Roosevelt will point out that he has opened the door to the calling of every witness at the public hearing before him testified that Walker in the Hofstadter legislative committee's investigation.

Mayor McKee Begins Work as Walker's Successor

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Joseph V. McKee, erstwhile president of the board of aldermen, today began work as mayor of New York.

Walker Sure to Win-Block

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Paul Block, publisher, today said in an editorial, which was printed in all the Block newspaper and inserted as a paid advertisement in other newspapers, that the voters of New York will "undoubtedly prove their confidence" in former Mayor James J. Walker "by overwhelmingly rejecting him in November."

Block testified at the Hofstadter legislative hearings, which resulted in Walker's resignation, that he had set up a joint brokerage account with Walker and operated it himself. Walker put in nothing, the testimony revealed, and both drew from the account an equal amount, $248,000 each. Block testified the account grew out of a remark by his young son, Billy, that he was "overdrawing" his father's account.

Rabbi Wise Will Fight Walker

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue and president of the American Jewish Congress, announced today that he will lead a "unit with all other independent and non-partisan groups" in an effort to prevent the re-election of James J. Walker as Mayor.

On March 17 Rabbi Wise and Rev. John Haynes Holmes, chairman of the city affairs committee, filed formal charges with the governor requesting Walker's removal.

he could not understand how the mayor could get along on his salary, which was then $23,000.

The "great majority" will apply the same standard to the mayor, which was necessitated by the impossibility not only of combating charges pressed for men with thwarted political ambitions, but also of overcoming a verdict that looked as if it had been signed, sealed and delivered, even before the trial had started," said the Block editorial.

Those who were present at the trial are fully aware of the injustice, the unfairness and the prejudice which ruled the court, not only toward the mayor, but toward all the witnesses as testified in his behalf.

Walker Admits Guilty by Resigning, Says Seabury

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Samuel Seabury declared that Mayor James J. Walker's resignation was a "full proof" was "equivalent to a confession of guilt."

"All I care to say," said the counsel to the committee which investigated Walker's official conduct, "is that the charges against the mayor were fully proved and corroborated in many instances by documentary evidence which was undisputed and by the admissions of the mayor."

FRANCE SEEKS COPPEL KEY

Arms Equality Proposal to Be Put Up to Washington Before Any Reply

Paris, Sept. 2 (INB)—The official alliance with which France accepted Germany's "demand" for arms equality because significant today when it was learned informal conversations on the delicate subject now are under way with other nations.

Great Britain and France almost certainly will act in accord on the German plea. It is also agreed that as a virtual certainty the United States will be consulted before any formal reply is made to Germany.

FRANCE AS SPOKESMAN

It was likely that France would definitely sidestep any bilateral conversations with Germany on the subject of arms equality, and was expected to reply to Germany as one nation, but expressing the views of all nations of the Versailles treaty.

WARNING BY PERTINAX

France was expected to warn Germany she should adhere herself to all signers of the treaty and not to attempt to break it, and to ask for discussion of the matter or else take the consequences of the disarmament of France.

HOOPER LOSS IN SOUTH

The returns of the poll data do not give Hoover a look in on any result of Pennsylvania's election, south of the Ohio river. At this time Roosevelt appears to have Illinois by a substantial margin of safety.

Hoover gets every state east of Illinois and gains of the Ohio and Maryland-Pennsylvania, however, he will have an even 20-day electoral votes. The returns indicate he has a substantial margin of safety. Should he hold Kansas and Missouri his electoral vote of the West mountain region would still be doubtful, however, that he can win the necessary 270 votes.

CURLEY FIGHTS FOR RAILROADS

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, left Albany today to confer with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt preparatory to his campaign appealing through the legislature for the Democratic Presidential nominee.

Before leaving he conferred with James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Mayor Curley said his address would include farm, prohibition and economic questions.

Hoover, to Retain Office, Poll Shows, Must Break Roosevelt Poll

Washington, Sept. 2.—The corn-belt states of the Middle West appears to hold the key to the 1932 presidential election as the campaign moves into September.

ROOSEVELT GAINS

If Governor Roosevelt should maintain for the next two months the advance he now holds in the area, and at the same time retain his present firm grip on the Pacific Coast, his chances could be little if any question as to the election outcome.

Additional returns recorded today from the eight states of the Midwest, every victory in that area gave Kansas, showed additional gains for Roosevelt. Kansas, the home of Vice President Curtis, from the outset of the poll has been on a winning streak.

Hoover's lead in the Midwest, however, is still so small that it would not be surprising if the state should swing over to any time to Roosevelt.

Hoover's returns from these states presents some rather startling conditions. Wisconsin and South Dakota, the poll shows, are giving Roosevelt majorities that will give him a substantial margin of safety.

Hoover's gains every state east of Illinois and gains of the Ohio and Maryland-Pennsylvania, however, he will have an even 20-day electoral votes. The returns indicate he has a substantial margin of safety.

Mystery in Suicide

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 2 (INB)—A woman today was seeking the motive for the suicide of Miss Elizabeth Payne, 38, she was found dead in a rooming house, a few hours after her father, who was killed as Mayor of Fredericksburg.

Should Mothers-in-Law Be Poisoned?

—Sometimes MARY FAITH thought so. KIM's mother didn't like her, was jealous of her, was always finding fault. But MARY FAITH had so many problems in her 1931 marriage to a playboy husband that she was willing to put up with anything from KIM's mother.

Beatrice Burton

Author of "The Flapper Wife," and "Lovejoy"

Pole to Quit Treasury, May Head Southern Bank

Washington, Sept. 2.—John William Pole, comptroller of the currency, has admitted that he will submit his formal resignation in a few days, but would not comment on his future plans.

It was reported that as soon as President Hoover accepts Pole's resignation, he will assume a position as head of a large Southern bank.

Alfonso's Son to Go Under Knife for Appendicitis

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Don Juan, son of Ex-King Alfonso of Spain, will soon undergo an operation for appendicitis, his doctors disclosed today.

Don Juan

Don Juan, who is a midshipman with the British fleet, has been in the hospital for some time and just recovered from an attack of malaria.

Eva Tangany, Stage Star, Back on Road to Health

Hollywood, Sept. 2.—Eva Tangany, star of the stage, is expected to completely recover from her recent illness. It was learned today.

Should Mothers-in-Law Be Poisoned?

—Sometimes MARY FAITH thought so. KIM's mother didn't like her, was jealous of her, was always finding fault. But MARY FAITH had so many problems in her 1931 marriage to a playboy husband that she was willing to put up with anything from KIM's mother.

Beatrice Burton

Author of "The Flapper Wife," and "Lovejoy"

MARY FAITH

It starts in Tuesday, Sept. 6

BOSTON AMERICAN

It starts in Tuesday, Sept. 6

Chicago Beer Baron Taken for Last Ride

Chicago, Sept. 2 (INB)—Walter Zwiakowski, an enemy of the "Bible" O'Donnell, was assassinated today in what police believed was a new outbreak in the war for control of South Side beer territory.

The bullet-riddled body was placed on the front seat of his new sedan parked in a alley.

TODAY

Continued from First Page

guests when the sun was hidden every day by the water vapor clouds.

INTEREST BEGINS

SEPT. 10

Deposits Received by Mail HOME SAVINGS BANK

INTEREST BEGINS

SEPT. 10

Deposits Received by Mail HOME SAVINGS BANK

BROKER SEX WIFE AFTER SHE SAVED HIS HEALTH, MONEY

Tragedy Victim

I WANT TO HARDWARE STORE AND BOUGHT THE GUN AND BUCKSHOT

MRS. HOMER W. WHITTIER

THEY VIEWED THE ECLIPSE TOGETHER

WHEN SHE FIRST STAIRS I FIRED

HOMER W. WHITTIER

These sketches describe in graphic details the events leading up to the killing by Homer W. Whittier, Manchester, N. H., of his wife. A petition asking for the commitment of Whittier as insane is to be filed at Manchester today.

U. S. Takes Big Loss on War Insurance

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP)—The government's liability on war risk insurance claims was reported today by Brigadier-General Frank C. Hines, veterans administrator, to have exceeded premium payments by $1,000,000,000.

Leonister Driver Held

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—La Verne Gaudin, 24, a truck driver of Leonister, Mass., was held in $1,000 in homicide court today on a suspicion of homicide. Police said his truck killed an unidentified man yesterday.

VICTIM NURSED HIM THROUGH SICKNESS

Manchester Man Believed Broken Mentally After Long Period of Worry

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 2.—Investigating authorities expressed the unofficial opinion today that the slaying of Mrs. Helen Whittier by her stock broker husband, Homer Whittier, was due to insane animosity on his part against the wife who had saved both him and his business.

The same financial worries which had broken him down physically at last caused a mental collapse, the authorities believe.

Mrs. Whittier, who for several years had virtually controlled his brokerage business, had recently placed it again on a precarious basis after having nursed her husband back to comparative health following a shock.

DELAY INSANITY PLEA

Application by Whittier's attorney, Charles E. Laughlin, for his commitment to the State Hospital for Mental Patients at Concord will probably be delayed to give the authorities opportunity to take action themselves toward the same end.

Whittier, having pleaded not guilty to first degree murder, after confessing to police, is held without bail at the county jail for action by the grand jury later this month.

"It is so patent that Whittier is insane that the authorities are loath to have him committed where he is examined by alienists," said a friend.

NURSED HIM TO HEALTH

"His wife had tenderly nursed him back to some degree of health and he was lately apparently on the road to recovery, but his long financial worry had evidently preyed on his mind more than on the others," the authorities hold the same view as to do. It was pure insanity that caused him to turn on the woman who had brought him back to health out of the rut.

"She was not only a devoted business partner and wife but a loving daughter-in-law to Whittier's mother, who is now in collapse at the farm at Riverdale, where they were spending the summer."

HIS CONDITION POOR

While his many friends were aiding him with information regarding the mental stress he had been showing lately, Whittier was apparently unconcerned at the county jail. He inquired after his mother's health but did not mention the wife he had slain. His physical condition is very poor, Sheriff Dowd said.

The stock broker killed his wife with a newly purchased 12-gauge shotgun in their home on Massachusetts st. after work Wednesday, when they had viewed the eclipse together. He then telephoned to the police and told what he had done.

FARM STRIKERS SIGN TRUCE

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2 (AP)—Nebraska highways, which teemed with farm holiday adherents yesterday seeking to prevent livestock and produce trucks from entering Omaha, today were clear of pickets.

The signing of a truce came in swift and dramatic fashion last night. It followed a meeting of 200 farmers pickets at Elkhorn, Neb., where Otto Pfeiffer of Elkhorn, president of the Nebraska Iowa Cooperative Milk Producers' Association, suggested withdrawal of all pickets.

The meeting was called after Sheriff Charles McDonald, with a force of 100 men, had arrested several Des Moines, Elkhorn pickets, on charges of dumping milk from a truck.

Pfeiffer made arrangements with McDonald for Des Moines' release providing the picketing be stopped.

Honduras Must Pay for Killing British

London, Sept. 2 (INS)—The British government today demanded "substantial compensation" from the Honduran government for the deaths of Percy Tucker and C. F. J. Everard, two of six British subjects murdered by Honduran bandits.

Tucker and Everard, fruit plantation employees, were shot and killed at La Ceiba, Honduras, on June 20, 1932, and October 4, 1931, respectively.

Body of Drowning Victim Recovered

Ellsworth, Me., Sept. 2 (AP)—The body of Herbert Salisbury, 33, was found along the riverbank of the Union river here today where it had been washed ashore after he drowned while on a short canoe trip Wednesday. A medical examiner gave a verdict of accidental drowning.

MUST MERCY BE BANISHED BY LAW?

JAMES STEINBERG APPEARED IN 1897

As Steinberg, or Frank Howard, as he appeared in 1897 when he was starting a life sentence in state prison for armed robbery. Eighteen years later he was paroled, dropped the name of Howard

Flood and Ruin Follow in Wake of Wild Storm

TWO PICTURES OF STEINBERG AS HE APPEARS TODAY BACK TO PRISON

lived on honorable life until this week. Then, forced by poverty, he stole a pair of shoes. His parole has been revoked. He is back in prison, to finish his years there unless mercy supercedes the letter of the law. The two pictures at the right show Steinberg or Howard as he appears today, 72 years old. His wife and daughter, who never knew of his prison record, are leading fight to free him.

BROTHERS HURT IN 28-FT. FALL

Two brothers, working as carpenters on a South Boston home, were injured today when a slating broke and they fell 28 feet to the concrete sidewalk.

Harold Demme, 32, of Chickering st., Somerville, suffered a possible fracture of the right leg and head injuries.

Simone Demme, 28, of Chandler st., Arlington, suffered a possible fracture of the spine. They were at work on a building in West 7th st., near D st.

The police blinker system, installed in that section yesterday, was used by two citizens to call police and the injured brothers were taken to Carney Hospital.

GANG SLAYER HANGS SELF

Kilbourn, Wis., Sept. 2 (AP)—Frank Tylis, Kenosha householder, who confessed he plotted the slaying of Robert A. Wilson, real estate dealer, hanged himself with his belt in the city jail today. Governor found him dead when they went to call him for breakfast.

He was one of four men held for the slaying of Wilson, whose body was found in a shallow grave Wednesday near Lodi, Wis. Victor Dominie, 37, is held at Sacramento, Cal., also charged with the slaying and William Covell, 35, Frank Cosentino, 32, Frank Zinfurino, 24, all of Kenosha, are held here.

COURT BACKS KIDNAPING

Providence, Sept. 2.—I have Bobby and I'm going to keep him."

This was the assertion of Mrs. Doris Gill today as the four-year-old son she spirited away from her husband last Sunday played in the home of his grandfather in Longwood ave. here.

Bobby is safe from interference in his present domicile, at least temporarily, for in Superior Court an injunction has been granted restraining his father, Robert F. Gill, 28, of New Haven, from interfering.

Mrs. Doris Gill is pictured in an affectionate pose with her four-year-old son, Bobby, whom she kidnapped from the boy's father, and eluding police of Rhode Island and Connecticut, he was taken to the home of her parents in Providence. Now Mrs. Gill has received a court order restraining her estranged husband from attempting to recover the boy.

Dempsey Admiral in Nebraska Navy

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2 (AP)—When Jack Dempsey came to Omaha last week to tilt a vaudeville engagement he was merely a former heavyweight boxing champion of the world. Now he's an admiral in the "Great Navy of the State of Nebraska."

Lieut. Gov. Theodore W. Metcalf of Omaha, ex-officio of the membership roll in the imaginary navy, conferred the new title upon Dempsey.

John Barry, 21, of West Sixth st., was the victim of an assault he said he could not explain.

He was walking with a girl along the Strandway, near st. he said, when two youths set upon him. He was treated for cuts on the face and head injuries.

JAIL FUGITIVE'S SMYTHE HELD IN MOTHER HELD CHECK CASE

Litchfield, Conn., Sept. 2 (INS)—New Bedford, Sept. 2.—J. Hilton Smythe, author, scenario writer and one time head of the Boston Bohemian colony was arrested today for Boston police as he obtained bail here on bond check charges.

He has been in jail for two months, awaiting trial on check charges here.

Mrs. Hart was ordered held in $3000 bond.

Choice of Over 10 Stunning Fall Fashions—Only $2.95

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY GREAT BASEMENT STORE

Smart New Fall Shades—Wines—Brotons—Greens, etc.

Styles that are Replicas of New York Specialty Shop Models---and Jordan's Basement $2.95 Dresses Need no Introduction---They're already Famous for Values

Jersey Dresses

A Feature for Misses--SATURDAY

Sale of $1.98

Silk Bias Slips $1.55

Beautiful Quality French Finish Crepe
Slim, Smooth Bias or Silhouette Styles
Exquisitely trimmed with Imported Lace
Well Made, Full Cut, Full Length. All sizes 34 to 42.
Choice of Tea Rose, Flesh or White

An Exceptional Low Price for a Smart New Dress for Business, Campus or Town.

Also Smart Novelty Wools, Plain Colors, Tweed Effects, 1-Piece or Jacket Types

—Striped Tops
—Cardigan or Belted Jackets
—Scarf Necklines
—Pleated Skirts
—Perfect Fitting
—Sizes 14 to 20

STORE OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY

LAW COULDN'T BLINK TO SAVE AGED LIFER

Mobbly wanted to send Frank Howard back to prison for life. Everybody wanted to let him go. But they couldn't without blinking at the law.

Parole Officer William M. Robinson told today of the parole of the old man's arrest and of the edicts unsuccessfully made to imprison a law that directed it should be returned to prison for violation of his parole.

Soon after the 72-year-old man had been arrested in a downtown store for stealing a pair of shoes Robinson was called to the La. Police at police station to identify him.

BREAKS DOWN IN GRIEF

"I went down to the cell room and I was rather dark," Robinson said. "But I thought I recognized the old man. I was sitting there and I was sorry in that recognition."

"Hullo, young fellow. How are you?" Frank said.

"You're 'ang,' he replied. 'You never saw me before.'"

"He had been reporting to me once a year."

"He was taken from the cell. I recognized him beyond doubt and he broke down and admitted his identity."

"Frank, they've got the goods on you," I said. "You might as well tell me the whole story. I want to be your friend."

UNABLE TO EXPLAIN FALL

"Mr. Robinson, I don't understand what made me do it," he said. "I don't even know how I happened to wander into that store. I didn't realize anything until I came to this cell. God, how can I ever tell my wife and baby about this. Let me go along with you to the prison as Howard. I'll go back for life and never say a word. I'll do what they'll never know what become of me."

"Since the day I came out of prison 18 years ago, Mr. Robinson, there has been only two or three people who knew who I really was."

was; you were one of them," he said.

"I have lived in Medford since the day I got out and until today I never visited a law. My wife and child and her relatives never had the slightest knowledge of who I really was or that I had been in prison."

ONLY 5 CENTS IN POCKET

"I have lived happily for 18 years, working every day up until two years ago, when I lost my job and wasn't able to find another one."

"He gave me a little book. In it were five new Washington stamps. Take these to my wife and have her give them to the baby," he said, after he had learned his wife must know.

"He had five cents on him when he was arrested. He told me he had walked into Boston. He was originally looked at the station as a suspicious person, and we were hopeful the thing could be settled without him having to go to court, but he was hooked and it couldn't be helped then."

JUDGE EAGER TO AID

"Judge Michael J. Murray wanted to help. He leaned over to me in court and said, 'You're not going to send this man back to prison over this thing, are you?' I told him we hoped it wouldn't be necessary and he said he couldn't believe that I would be any justice in his report."

"After Judge Murray filed the case we took Frank to the State House. I conferred with Chairman Brooks of the parole board and members of the Attorney-General's office for four hours while we sought a way to keep him out of prison. It could be done. The law says the parole board has no discretion as to whether a parole prisoner should be sent back to prison if he breaks his parole."

QUESTED OFFICER NAMED BRYAN

Brooklyn, Sept. 2.—The wrongful name of Sergeant Stephen J. Bryan (or'Brien) of the Brooklyn police, which is the partial cause of his suspension from duty for 30 days was identified today by the statement of his sister, Mrs. Ellen Murray of Montreal.

Mrs. Murray, who was approached by Inspector C. J. Ewing, who is handling the case for Mayor Lauder, said the name is Bryan, whatever the mayor thought.

"Our name has been Bryan for as long as I can remember," she stated. "If the mayor, anyone, sent in his own, he can find out for himself."

She said that she had been broken most women have only despised him, but she thought he was a good husband and a good father, "going straight" for 18 years and never getting into the bad side of his years, bowed him down again, within temptation's reach.

She will continue to be known as Mrs. Elizabeth Steinberg, and will continue to call her husband "James."

In a fight to free Frank Howard, Mrs. Steinberg, his loved ones are to be joined by Parole Officer William M. Robinson and members of the State Parole board whose duty was, because of a law passed in 1933, to send Steinberg back to prison.

WIFE'S EFFORTS TO FREE LIFER

Continued From First Page

Barry at the same time wrote Governor Elwell that he had allowed to let the Governor's friend, Stephen J. Bryan (or'Brien) of the Brooklyn police, which is the partial cause of his suspension from duty for 30 days was identified today by the statement of his sister, Mrs. Ellen Murray of Montreal.

Mrs. Murray, who was approached by Inspector C. J. Ewing, who is handling the case for Mayor Lauder, said the name is Bryan, whatever the mayor thought.

"Our name has been Bryan for as long as I can remember," she stated. "If the mayor, anyone, sent in his own, he can find out for himself."

She said that she had been broken most women have only despised him, but she thought he was a good husband and a good father, "going straight" for 18 years and never getting into the bad side of his years, bowed him down again, within temptation's reach.

She will continue to be known as Mrs. Elizabeth Steinberg, and will continue to call her husband "James."

In a fight to free Frank Howard, Mrs. Steinberg, his loved ones are to be joined by Parole Officer William M. Robinson and members of the State Parole board whose duty was, because of a law passed in 1933, to send Steinberg back to prison.

factory. After a short courtship they were married and a few years later the little family came to Boston.

"My husband was an excellent tradesman as a carriage painter and he was a good worker, one of the best. Things were going well. He was a number of years older than me, but it never seemed to make much difference."

"But I am not getting to the important part of this story. I was to jump ahead and say that Jim Steinberg had had a past life. He was a criminal. He was always the finest husband and father in the world and a good provider when he had the money. If it is the last thing I do on this earth I am going to battle in my fight, for him, his release from that cell."

"I cannot believe that my husband ever realized what we were doing. Up until two years ago things went fine for us. He made good living and every cent he earned he turned over to me to save for the future. He always used to say something to the effect that 'I will always put a little bit in two savings banks, one in Charlestown and the other in Medford every week.'"

"With the advancement in the methods of painting automobiles, free cars to Jim were forced out of a job. The hand of fate seemed to be against him. He was a thing of the past and there was nothing for the company to do but let him go."

"I will never forget the night he was sent to the State House. As I said, I didn't like to see him depressed and I was afraid that he might have met some harm. Finally I decided to notify the police."

"When I got home from the police station I waited and watched the clock tick off the hour. I heard every hour strike as I sat in the front window waiting for him to come home."

"About 8 o'clock I saw Officer Carlin carrying up the stairs. I felt sure he was coming to my home. I knew when saw the policeman that something had happened to him. I started myself. The news, I never expected it would be what it was. I never knew."

"When I went to the door I said, 'Have you some word from my husband?' Officer Carlin said, 'We have just been notified that he is in State Prison for life.'"

"I didn't understand what that meant. I never was interested in anything but my home. I didn't understand that I was in for life. I guess my startled look staggered the officer as he was going to the door. I was always the correct story: 'Perhaps misinterpreted the sergeant,' the officer said."

CALLS IN POLICE

"I called him at 8 o'clock Monday morning and started for Boston. I had a car sent to the house and when I told him that I was all right, he said, 'Well, they don't open until 8 o'clock. I can wait and be there by that time. Perhaps someone will give me a lift in a machine.'"

"He kissed me and Florence and then went out of the house. That was the last I saw of him. I expected that he would be home around supper time and when he didn't come back I became nervous. As I said, I didn't like to see him depressed and I was afraid that he might have met some harm. Finally I decided to notify the police."

"When I got home from the police station I waited and watched the clock tick off the hour. I heard every hour strike as I sat in the front window waiting for him to come home."

"About 8 o'clock I saw Officer Carlin carrying up the stairs. I felt sure he was coming to my home. I knew when saw the policeman that something had happened to him. I started myself. The news, I never expected it would be what it was. I never knew."

"When I went to the door I said, 'Have you some word from my husband?' Officer Carlin said, 'We have just been notified that he is in State Prison for life.'"

"I didn't understand what that meant. I never was interested in anything but my home. I didn't understand that I was in for life. I guess my startled look staggered the officer as he was going to the door. I was always the correct story: 'Perhaps misinterpreted the sergeant,' the officer said."

BILLS PAID PROMPTLY

"Ask anyone around Medford about him. Everybody knows him. He was honest. He was a thing of the past and there was nothing for the company to do but let him go."

"I will never forget the night he was sent to the State House. As I said, I didn't like to see him depressed and I was afraid that he might have met some harm. Finally I decided to notify the police."

"When I got home from the police station I waited and watched the clock tick off the hour. I heard every hour strike as I sat in the front window waiting for him to come home."

"About 8 o'clock I saw Officer Carlin carrying up the stairs. I felt sure he was coming to my home. I knew when saw the policeman that something had happened to him. I started myself. The news, I never expected it would be what it was. I never knew."

"When I went to the door I said, 'Have you some word from my husband?' Officer Carlin said, 'We have just been notified that he is in State Prison for life.'"

"I didn't understand what that meant. I never was interested in anything but my home. I didn't understand that I was in for life. I guess my startled look staggered the officer as he was going to the door. I was always the correct story: 'Perhaps misinterpreted the sergeant,' the officer said."

WIFE TO VISIT HIM

Robinson accompanied Mrs. Steinberg and her daughter to the State House today and there, in the department of correction, arranged for temporary financial aid for them. Their benefactor will be one of several anonymous persons who aid parole prisoners.

Mrs. Steinberg plans to visit her husband at the prison Monday and tell him of the battle waged to free him.

On Wednesday, however, both will seek an audience before the parole board, which is expected to hold its next meeting then.

It is expected that a delegation of prominent Medford citizens, who will be headed by James H. Murray, former governor of the state, will assist in returning Steinberg to his family in Medford, where he has lived for 14 years.

Arouned by the revelation of Steinberg's plight in the Boston Evening American on Tuesday evening and again yesterday, new facts were uncovered, some of citizens, not only in Medford, but also in Malden and Everett, where he was known, were high in praise of the man who was the subject of this newspaper to see that justice prevailed.

JAILING ASSAILED

An indication of the sympathy with which the aged ex-convict was received by the parole board, the statements of two members of the Governor's Council, James H. Murray and Charles W. Chester, I. Campbell of Quincy.

"I shall vote to release him," Brennan stated. "His return to prison is inhuman and he is entitled to a chance. I don't think he should get a life sentence for the theft of a pair of shoes. Necessity is the first law of nature and he yielded to the oldest instinct known to man."

"He should be restored to freedom under parole conditions, and given some help. He has gone straight for 18 years. He is entitled to an opportunity to continue."

"I wouldn't care to pass judgment until I have a chance to see him, but I would like to see him under the circumstances that it is harsh punishment for such an offense," Councilman Campbell said. "It would seem that the man in prison for the rest of his life in prison for doing that."

Frank Howard and he was paroled 18 years ago after serving 17 years of a life sentence for armed robbery.

TELLS OF STRUGGLE

Mrs. Steinberg and Florence both wept bitterly as they examined the bank books. They knew that if a substantial balance could be found, that Jim Steinberg would not be in State Prison for life.

Continuing her story Mrs. Steinberg, weeping, said:

"I know I can't seem to realize it is real yet. It seems like a dream that I can't wake up from. That it is a mistake. Last Sunday, Jim went out and got the paper. He didn't look at the news columns; he turned to the help wanted advertisement."

LEARNS THE NEWS

"I went directly to Medford police headquarters and saw that Michael Brown told me what had happened to him. I didn't know much more that morning."

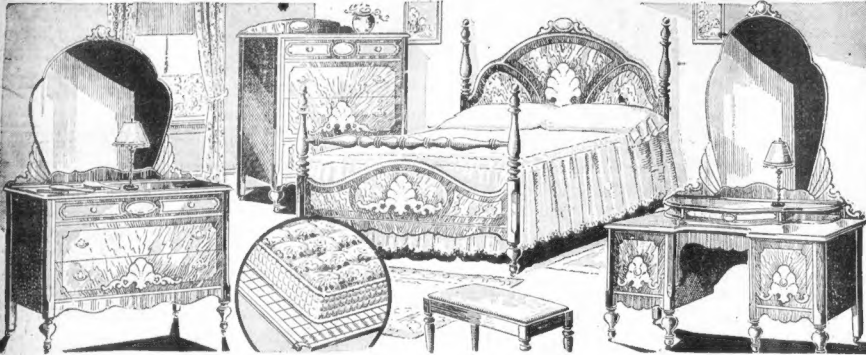

"I went to the house and I must admit the blow was to me and Florence."

"I didn't understand what that meant. I never was interested in anything but my home. I didn't understand that I was in for life. I guess my startled look staggered the officer as he was going to the door. I was always the correct story: 'Perhaps misinterpreted the sergeant,' the officer said."

LAST DAY! KANE'S GREATEST AUGUST SALE

SATURDAY—9 A.M. TO 9 P.M.

$5 Delivers Any 17-Pc. Room Outfit!

Tomorrow 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.—The LAST DAY of Our Greatest August Sale Usually $145! This Gorgeous 17-Piece Bedroom Ensemble! $58 $5 Down

Buy Now--You May Never Get Another Chance to Buy at These Prices Again!

Our Regular $21.50 3-Pc. 4-Poster Bed Outfit Posting Bed, Spring and Mattress, 3 Pieces. $1175	Our Regular $20 Lounge Chair English Style $1195	Our Regular $3.50 Solid Walnut Book Trough END $129 TABLE	Our Regular $17.50 Decorated Breakfast Suite Table and 4 chairs $895	Our Regular $39 American Oriental Rugs 6x12 or 8.3x10.6 $2250	Our Regular $25 Electric Radio Complete with all tubes $1495	Our Regular $17.50 Oil Burner For Ranges Not the cheap kind —but a BETTER Burner. $1895
--	--	---	--	---	--	--

17-Piece Living Room Ensemble Usually $139 $58 $5 Down

17-Piece Dining Room Ensemble Usually $154 $58 $5 Down

HYDE PARK STORE
—1206 River St.

CAMBRIDGE STORE
—800 Mass. Ave.

USED FURN. STORE
208 Camden St., Rm.

SHOP AT THE NEAREST KANE STORE

At the Sign of the Big Clock

KANE'S

740 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON

FRAMINGHAM STORE
—64 Irving St.

WALDEN STORE—
9 Dartmouth St.

NEWTON STORE—
292 Center St.

The three rooms shown above today have kitchen furniture may be had as a 4 Room Home Outfit for $174

Easy Terms

MANCHUKUO IS OUT FOR WAR ON CHINA

Mukden, Sept. 2 (INS)—A virtual war ultimatum was delivered to China by the young state of Manchukuo today.

Declaring the province of Jehol was the seat of the only disorderly elements in the new Japanese-inspired state, the "ultimatum" stated Manchukuo was "resolved to adopt appropriate measures in order to clear out the outlaw elements completely."

The statement, signed by Foreign Minister Hsieh Chih-shih and addressed to the Chinese national government at Nanking, blamed "military groups" of North China as responsible for the unrest in Jehol, and declared China would be responsible for "whatever situation arises" from the proposed Manchukuo action.

Tokyo, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Foreign Office announced today that a joint treaty between the Manchukuo state of Manchukuo and Japan would be signed soon to become effective before Sept. 13. The agreement will provide a defensive alliance between the two nations.

Boston Storage Warehouse Co.
Plymouth 1000 or 1001 13th St.
L. W. Wainwright, Gen. Mgr.
Huntington Ave.
at Forsyth St.
Fireproof Construction
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE STORAGE

BOSTON WHOLESALE MILLINERY
59 Temple Place 3rd Floor
1000 NEW Felts
At a New Low Price
89c
Regular $1.50 to $2 Values
Imagine the savings . . . when 89c will buy such new styles and colors as are featured in this event . . . and remember . . . these are ALL NEW FIRST QUALITY FASHIONS!
Large and Small Headings
UPSTAIRS—3rd Floor—BLAKE BUILDING—59 TEMPLE PLACE

Woman, 64, Hitch Hikes From Texas to Washington

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP)—A gray-haired grandmotherly woman of 64 from far-away Texas is among the latest hitch-hiking visitors to the capital.

The broad blocks separating Washington's points of interest did not weary Mrs. Jane Yates of Fort Worth as she set about sight-seeing today, for not only had she come on foot—with a few rides, of course—all the way from home, but had made the trip by way of Niagara Falls and New York.

Mrs. Yates says she is without funds. She is planning to walk back to Texas.

3 IN A MARITAL TANGLE VANISH

Ralph P. Mannis, Boston Jeweler, who has filed suits for annulment of his marriage to and divorce from the former Miss Marie Gertrude, daughter of the late District Judge Gertrude of Boston, will not prosecute her. His attorney asserted today.

Mannis charges that his wife is also Mrs. Christopher de Grood, whose husband is the New England agent for a European steamship line. He also alleges that at the time of his first marriage to her, she was married to a Mr. de Grood, James P. McCarthy, a naval officer, whom she has since divorced.

Mannis, de Grood and the woman have occupied the same apartment at 1600 Beacon st., Brookline.

BANDIT KILLED IN THRILLING STREET FIGHT

New York, Sept. 2 (INS)—Police, and bandits who tried to rob a pawn shop, fought it out today in the crowded streets of Brooklyn, and when the shots died out one bandit was dead, one was dying, and two policemen and a civilian were wounded.

The first to fall was the "book-out" for the thieves, who stood in front of the pawn shop when Pauline Peter De Carlo and Ralph LaFontaine drew up in their automobile in response to a police radio call. Patrolman De Carlo shot him when he shouted to his comrades inside.

OFFICER WOUNDED
De Carlo was next. He fell as he entered the shop, while LaFontaine ran around to the back door where he brought down one of the fleeing men and then fell himself, wounded in the leg.

"Book-out" cried a little boy, "there's some fellows on the second floor!"
Dead silence. More shots. And soon a policeman came downstairs, dragging a wounded man behind him.

One of the bandits apparently got away, and somehow in the scuffle an innocent bystander whose name was not known was toppled over.

CROWD IN PANIC
Now there was pandemonium in the street outside the pawnshop. Reserve and detective, arriving from nearby police stations, had difficulty getting through the howling mob to the scene of the fray.

The wounded were piled in an ambulance, bandits and policemen together, and hurried to a hospital, where one of the two wounded bandits died within an hour.

Patrolman De Carlo was shot through the neck and the head and is in a serious condition. The other bandit, who remains unidentified, like the one who was killed, also is said to be critically injured.

Fear 13 Soldiers Dead in Explosion

Bucharest, Rumania, Sept. 2 (AP)—A munitions depot at Chitila exploded during the night, hurling shell fragments which wounded inhabitants in that and nearby villages.

One soldier was known to have been killed and an entire guard of 16 soldiers and one officer was missing.

While her husband played around, Mary Faith was on the job, eight hours a day . . . and some evenings, too . . . flattering, caressing, waiting on and taking dictation from the man who had been the rival for her hand. Yet she loved him. Now she solved her heart problem is revealed in a thrilling new serial story by Beatrice Burton, famous for her insight into human nature. Read "Mary Faith," beginning next Tuesday, Sept. 6, in the Boston American.

'BLOW THE MEN DOWN'

Miss Patsy Raskob, 12-year-old daughter of John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will match her sailing skill against veteran racers in the International Star Class yacht races to be sailed off Southport, Ct., Sept. 16 to 23.

Miss Raskob is the youngest girl ever to race in this regatta and Maryland's only representative in the star class. (International News Photos.)

FRAUD ORDERS YOUTH HELD IN ON RACE BETS

A fraud order against one of the mails in promoting lotteries in Canada, Newfoundland, Denmark and the Irish Free State overpowers was issued today by Postmaster Hurley.

The names of persons sponsoring the lotteries are embodied in orders to postoffice clerks and carriers to intercept lottery tickets and money orders to them. Similar fraud orders were issued against the Irish Free State overpowers last week.

After a hearing in Chelsea Juvenile Court, Alexander Sankoum, 16, of Polson st., Revere, was held for the grand jury in $10,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter as a result of the death of James B. Hurley, 12, of 18 Polson st., who died more than a month ago, after he had been sprayed from head to foot with gasoline and converted into a human torch by a playmate who threw a match at him.

RUBIO TO QUIT TODAY; PANI MAY RULE

Mexico City, Sept. 2 (INS)—The resignation of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio will be announced to his cabinet at noon, and Congress will accept it, probably tomorrow, it was learned from reliable sources.

In cut and drive proceedings, the president will lay his resignation before his ministers, who then will redraft it, as prescribed by the constitution.

It then will be sent to Congress, probably in time for action Saturday by a joint session of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies. Only a brief debate is looked for before it is accepted, after which a provisional president will be designated.

The new provisional head of the nation will take the oath at once, making it unnecessary for the minister of Gobernacion, Gen. Juan Jose Ruiz, to serve temporarily.

Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, minister of the Interior and Governor of Lower California, or Alberto J. Pani, minister of finance, was expected to be named provisional president.

Mrs. Ruiz's President was expected to leave for Europe at an early date.

PATSY RASKOB TO RACE VETS

Centerville, Md., Sept. 2 (AP)—A slip of a girl will match her 12 years of youth and experience of sailing the waters of Chesapeake bay against the veteran racers in the International Star Class Yacht Racing Association regatta, to be sailed off Southport, Ct., Sept. 16 to 23.

She is Miss Patsy Raskob of Pioneer Point Farm, daughter of John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic national committee. Being only 12 years of age, she is the youngest girl ever to sail in the international event.

Miss Raskob will be the only representative of Maryland's to meet the premier racing yachtmen of the world in the annual five-day series of the association. Her crew will be 18-year-old Mason Shuman, Jr., of Boston, Md.

Marking her first summer of sailing in the star class, Miss Raskob won the championship of the Eastern Shore Fleet of the International Association to gain the right to challenge in the International.

Outlook Dark and Stormy

—By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER—

When the moon and the sun play titanic wars in the sky they call it an eclipse.

When our big men do the same thing on earth they call it politics.

The object is to blanket the other man so he will be invisible to the news reels.

The most remarkable political eclipse is of that grand old Tammany planet, Al Smith. Al is gazing at the Democratic party through a chunk of 1928 smoked glass.

The Republican party has copped all his ideas. That puts Al on a deserted desert with a set of saw feet. He can't kick and he can't hike.

So to get even Al became a editor of the Outlook, a magazine that is published once a month, ready or not. He can't trust his opponents to say a word and use blue pencil for slanders.

(Copyright, 1932, International News Service, Inc.)

Mind "Beer Blank," Says Crash Driver

Lawrence beer had his mind so blank, George E. Merrill of Lincoln, at Cambridge, testified in court as he pleaded guilty to drunken driving charges.

Merrill was arrested last night in Stuart st., Park Bay, after his machine was in collision with a parked car. The case was continued until September 15.

False Fire Alarm Sentence Appealed

A 10-day jail sentence was imposed today in municipal court on James Callahan, 26, of Greely st., Boston, on a charge of sounding a false fire alarm yesterday at Boxborough and Albany sts., South End.

Callahan appealed. A charge of drunkenness was filed.

GILCHRIST'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

7 Saturday Bargains

From Retail Store Stock

Just 100 Dresses

Earlier in season prices were three or four times this low price.

$2

Smart silk crepes, silk prints, and sheers. Dresses that can be worn immediately because so many have long sleeves. Smart color contrasts. Separate jackets. Brown, black, and rust tones. Mostly misses, some women's sizes.

Boys' 3 Pc. Suits $2.99

Smart, practical mixtures or plain blues. Coat, vest and lined knickerbockers. Sizes 7 to 15.

Smart new Felts 69c

Fashion covers the right eye. Some turbans in the group.

Boys' School Shoes $1.69

Oxfords and some boots. Sizes 10 to 16 in. Second of Endicott Johnson.

Fall Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Irregulars at famous name stockings.

Children's School Shoes 79c

Spot oxfords, patent leather oxford shoes. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Stockings 44c

Chiffon silk to the pick of the season's service with lisle tops, all with lisle feet. New fall colors. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10.

REYNOLDS SHOT IS TRACED IN SECRET SIFT

Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 3 (AP)—Officials entrusted with the prosecution of murder charges against Mrs. Abby Holmes Reynolds, former Broadway actress, and Albert Walker, Winston-Salem youth, today had before them the findings of four physicians who performed an autopsy on the body of the former's husband, Smith Reynolds, young heir to tobacco millions.

The autopsy was performed secretly the night of August 28, the day on which Mr. J. (Doc) Reynolds, Jr., reached Winston-Salem after a 34-day trip by steamer, airplane and automobile from the Canary Islands where he was cruising when his boat was fatally shot on July 6.

Reynolds did not attend the autopsy, news of which has just leaked out. Authorities declined to discuss the report of the physicians, but the Winston-Salem Journal said today that the bullet was fired from close range, penetrating the right temple and emerging just back of the left ear after passing downward.

The 26-year-old youth was found mortally wounded on a sleeping porch of the family home, Reynolds, within an hour after guests at a birthday party had left. Governor W. N. Dixon decided it was suicide.

The sheriff's report continued to investigate, the indictment resulting.

Theater Strike Nears End

New Haven, Ct., Sept. 2 (AP)—Settlement of the strike in the American Theater, Inc., corporation, through New England appeared imminent today as agreements were signed between practically all the unions involved, and the management.

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

It's a question of QUALITY

Drink PUREOXIA Ginger Ale

A Product of the Pepsin Company

Man... "Telegram" News

- We bought the yard goods direct from the Mill
- We picked the tailors . . . and they ARE tailors
- So again the Men's Shop does the spectacular!

Sale . . . Men's New Fall Suits

"Pick" of the crop in new Fall Worsteds . . . The Smartest 6 Models of the Season . . . Tailored like a "Million Dollars"

$29.50 Would be the Price For these Suits a Year Ago

$24.50 is the Usual Price For these Suits Today

But . . . in this Fortunate

Advance Sale, You Pay Only

With prices now rising in the New York market, pretty lucky for you to "ring in" on a tremendous event like this. Every suit brand new, with Farr's guaranteed sleeve and body lining. Styles for the young and for the conservative. Double Breasteds, Single Breasteds, Peaked Lapels, 3 Button Models, and Patch Pockets. In Blue Serge, Blue Pencil Stripes, Grays (lots of grays, Oxford, Steel, Blue Grays, and others), and Browns in the rich new fall shades. Sizes up to 50 to fit Regulars, Longs, Shorts, Short Stouts, and Stouts.

Extra Salesmen! Extra Fitters! No Charge for Alterations!

Man... "Telegram" News

• We bought the yard goods direct from the Mill

• We picked the tailors . . . and they ARE tailors

• So again the Men's Shop does the spectacular!

Sale . . . Men's New Fall Suits

"Pick" of the crop in new Fall Worsteds . . . The Smartest 6 Models of the Season . . . Tailored like a "Million Dollars"

$29.50 Would be the Price For these Suits a Year Ago

$24.50 is the Usual Price For these Suits Today

But . . . in this Fortunate

Advance Sale, You Pay Only

With prices now rising in the New York market, pretty lucky for you to "ring in" on a tremendous event like this. Every suit brand new, with Farr's guaranteed sleeve and body lining. Styles for the young and for the conservative. Double Breasteds, Single Breasteds, Peaked Lapels, 3 Button Models, and Patch Pockets. In Blue Serge, Blue Pencil Stripes, Grays (lots of grays, Oxford, Steel, Blue Grays, and others), and Browns in the rich new fall shades. Sizes up to 50 to fit Regulars, Longs, Shorts, Short Stouts, and Stouts.

Extra Salesmen! Extra Fitters! No Charge for Alterations!

Man... "Telegram" News

• We bought the yard goods direct from the Mill

• We picked the tailors . . . and they ARE tailors

• So again the Men's Shop does the spectacular!

Sale . . . Men's New Fall Suits

"Pick" of the crop in new Fall Worsteds . . . The Smartest 6 Models of the Season . . . Tailored like a "Million Dollars"

$29.50 Would be the Price For these Suits a Year Ago

$24.50 is the Usual Price For these Suits Today

But . . . in this Fortunate

Advance Sale, You Pay Only

With prices now rising in the New York market, pretty lucky for you to "ring in" on a tremendous event like this. Every suit brand new, with Farr's guaranteed sleeve and body lining. Styles for the young and for the conservative. Double Breasteds, Single Breasteds, Peaked Lapels, 3 Button Models, and Patch Pockets. In Blue Serge, Blue Pencil Stripes, Grays (lots of grays, Oxford, Steel, Blue Grays, and others), and Browns in the rich new fall shades. Sizes up to 50 to fit Regulars, Longs, Shorts, Short Stouts, and Stouts.

Extra Salesmen! Extra Fitters! No Charge for Alterations!

Man... "Telegram" News

• We bought the yard goods direct from the Mill

• We picked the tailors . . . and they ARE tailors

• So again the Men's Shop does the spectacular!

Sale . . . Men's New Fall Suits

"Pick" of the crop in new Fall Worsteds . . . The Smartest 6 Models of the Season . . . Tailored like a "Million Dollars"

$29.50 Would be the Price For these Suits a Year Ago

$24.50 is the Usual Price For these Suits Today

But . . . in this Fortunate

Advance Sale, You Pay Only

With prices now rising in the New York market, pretty lucky for you to "ring in" on a tremendous event like this. Every suit brand new, with Farr's guaranteed sleeve and body lining. Styles for the young and for the conservative. Double Breasteds, Single Breasteds, Peaked Lapels, 3 Button Models, and Patch Pockets. In Blue Serge, Blue Pencil Stripes, Grays (lots of grays, Oxford, Steel, Blue Grays, and others), and Browns in the rich new fall shades. Sizes up to 50 to fit Regulars, Longs, Shorts, Short Stouts, and Stouts.

Extra Salesmen! Extra Fitters! No Charge for Alterations!

Man... "Telegram" News

• We bought the yard goods direct from the Mill

• We picked the tailors . . . and they ARE tailors

• So again the Men's Shop does the spectacular!

Sale . . . Men's New Fall Suits

"Pick" of the crop in new Fall Worsteds . . . The Smartest 6 Models of the Season . . . Tailored like a "Million Dollars"

$29.50 Would be the Price For these Suits a Year Ago

$24.50 is the Usual Price For these Suits Today

But . . . in this Fortunate

NORMAN VISIT SCORED AS AID TO HOOPER'S RE-ELECTION

Universal Service Special Cable.

Paris, Sept. 2.—Assailing Montagu Norman's activities in the United States as a violation of the Lausanne "gentlemen's agreement," which France interpreted as forming a solid front of dollar nations against America, Finance in a front-page editorial, edited on Premier Herriot to protest France from being sacrificed to Hoover's campaign for re-election.

Finance recalls that the Herriot newspapers originally denounced the "gentlemen's agreement" as an "intolerable attack" by the world's financial leaders to achieve their ends at the expense of the American taxpayer.

The governor of the bank of England's mysterious doings in the United States are attacked as "the latest manifestation of Premier Herriot's interpretation of the 'gentlemen's agreement,'" although they are declared to coincide with the interpretation made by Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain. The editorial follows.

"New York cablegrams do not conceal from us that the visit to the United States of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, has for its object the negotiation of a new debt agreement. But no cablegram from New York or London, nor any communication from Paris tells us that the basis of this negotiation has been previously agreed upon by Messrs. MacDonald and Herriot."

"Meanwhile, it is not yet two months since a great deal was made of a certain gentlemen's agreement which subordinated ratification of the Lausanne accord (settling Germany's reparations at one cent on the dollar) to a satisfactory settlement of war debts with the Americans, and which we were assured constituted a common front of everything this word represents."

"Alexander Dumas, that sceptic of women who was inclined to deny women certain virtues, once said: 'Honor is man's affair; it is above all a gentleman's affair and this affair is man's before everything to keep one's word.' This word has undoubtedly been employed to distinguish the arrangement it ornaments from most solemn treaties—that is to say, those arrangements, which, involving only the honor of nations, are but scraps of paper."

"At least, in squalling the dignity of these letters, the gentlemen's agreement does not equal their inequality. The second hypothesis would appear most equal in the light of Montagu Norman's voyage."

"We should recognize that England's separate negotiations with the United States conform, if not with the interpretation of the 'gentlemen's agreement,' at least with the interpretation of the 'gentlemen's agreement.'"

"I voted against ratification of the Hoover moratorium. I refused to pledge myself to the proposition when the President pulled members of Congress to telegraph."

"I am opposed to doing anything about a further moratorium or a reduction in any of these debts until Europe does something about slashing her armaments."

"At the same time, it was learned, that France and other debtors have become fearful that Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, had prepared the ground in his secret conferences with international bankers and government officials for a preferred status for Great Britain."

"Paris was described as being not at all impressed by the assertions in London, New York and Washington that Norman was in this country solely for his health, and in preparing to demand negotiations for drastic reduction or cancellation of her own debt paralleling those to start soon between Secretary of State Wilson and Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador."

"Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, often called the 'father of the Federal Reserve System,' let it be known clearly at Lynchburg, Va., that he was suspicious of the moves being made in Norman's secret conferences, Glass said: 'I would not be willing publicly to conjecture what Montagu Norman's mission is in this country but I would be willing to suspect that he is here to help run the New York Federal Reserve Bank in certain European interests.'"

FREE!
this Golden Glow cap and sauce

With one pint of CARP'S Mayonnaise in the new jar. See and hear the new phillio at any of the 50 World stores.

the gentlemen's agreement by M. Herriot, at least with that of Mr. MacDonald.

"When the accord became known it was greeted by an explosion of fury in the United States. The Herriot newspapers denounced it as an intolerable attempt at hegemony by financiers who rule the world."

"The chief of Republicanism in the Senate at Washington, Mr. Watson, cried: 'I cannot believe such a club ought to be brandished against the United States.'"

"The club not being a gentleman's weapon, Mr. MacDonald hastened to reassure America. The accord was only a light switch, and, even if one dared say it, a simple sign. It was not serious."

"As a result, the declaration made in the House of Commons by Mr. MacDonald July 15 last was a blatant contradiction of those of Monsieur Herriot. Nothing could have been more gentlemanly."

"There is, in effect, a hierarchy of duties and the one who recognizes that precedence is to be given the most serious. There is reason to believe that before promising Monsieur Herriot to reach agreement with him on the debt question, Mr. MacDonald surrounded the contrary to America. Now he is more strictly bound by the promise which was the first chronologically and the more sacred as having been made to a member of the family. It is first among Anglo-Saxons that one should be a gentleman."

"Moreover on July 30, the day following that on which Mr. MacDonald renounced to Commons that the gentlemen's agreement accord was signed with Monsieur Herriot. In this he conducted himself as a gentleman—at least with the United States and with Germany—with the United States because he said the accord affected the 'European regime' that debts are excluded therefore; with Germany because in an invidious manner the Franco-British accord of confidence is an encouragement to the Reich's rearmament."

"As for Mr. Hoover, after having invited the European nations to agree among themselves so as to facilitate agreement with the United States, he even refused to sign an appearance of agreement, and, after having forced us by his moratorium to abandon the reparations which had been solemnly promised us by his predecessor Wilson, he taken on account of our sacrifice; or rather he recompensed us by trading debts against our military and economic disarmament which would open France to the invasion of German armies and, in the meanwhile, to an invasion of American products."

"This is possibly how a gentleman conducts himself before his voters. We beg our government not to sacrifice the French citizen to the American voter and to be just a little bit of a gentleman with its own voters by paying just a little attention to the promises it made them."

DEBT CUT MOVE ADMITTED
Continued From First Page

government leaders. The Kansas chairman of the naval appropriation subcommittee of the House concurred in Wood's view that a drive is on to extend the Hoover moratorium or bring about cancellation, and added:

"I voted against ratification of the Hoover moratorium. I refused to pledge myself to the proposition when the President pulled members of Congress to telegraph."

"I am opposed to doing anything about a further moratorium or a reduction in any of these debts until Europe does something about slashing her armaments."

"At the same time, it was learned, that France and other debtors have become fearful that Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, had prepared the ground in his secret conferences with international bankers and government officials for a preferred status for Great Britain."

"Paris was described as being not at all impressed by the assertions in London, New York and Washington that Norman was in this country solely for his health, and in preparing to demand negotiations for drastic reduction or cancellation of her own debt paralleling those to start soon between Secretary of State Wilson and Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador."

"Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, often called the 'father of the Federal Reserve System,' let it be known clearly at Lynchburg, Va., that he was suspicious of the moves being made in Norman's secret conferences, Glass said: 'I would not be willing publicly to conjecture what Montagu Norman's mission is in this country but I would be willing to suspect that he is here to help run the New York Federal Reserve Bank in certain European interests.'"

FREE!
this Golden Glow cap and sauce

With one pint of CARP'S Mayonnaise in the new jar. See and hear the new phillio at any of the 50 World stores.

Lactic Acid Cause of Hangover

Rome, Sept. 2.—The "hangover" of the morning-after was explained here today by Dr. Harold E. Himelich, of the Yale school of medicine, in an address before the International Congress of the Federation of Societies for Experimental Biology.

Accumulation of lactic acid in the blood, caused by indulgence in alcohol, results in the "hangover," he said. It gradually disappears. It is the same substance that accumulates in the blood after violent physical exercise, causing fatigue.

He deplored the use of alcohol in the treatment of influenza cases. Alcohol is increased and recovery retarded, he said.

Haverhill Man Suicide

Haverhill, Sept. 2.—Frank H. Ballard, retired undertaker, was found dead in a gas-filled room.

FLOODS SWEEP TEXAS VALLEY

Eagle Pass, Tex., Sept. 2 (AP).—A surging, yellow torrent overflowed the banks of the Rio Grande today, inundating streets in the Eagle Pass business district and part of the Mexican town of Piedras Negras.

Swollen by rains, the river was rising at an estimated rate of three feet an hour. It was feared the entire city would be flooded. Several two-story buildings collapsed.

In Piedras Negras the flood waters had covered about one-third of the town. A railroad bridge was under water. At Del Rio, Tex., two thirds of the international bridge was washed away.

Postoffice Will Be Closed Labor Day

Postmaster Hurley has announced the stations, branches and general departments of the Boston postoffice will be closed Labor Day. Only special delivery mail will be delivered.

Officer's Revolver Stolen From Auto

Patrolman Thomas J. Moran of the Dudley station is looking for the thief who snatched a .38-caliber revolver which he left in his auto while visiting friends in Perkins st., Jamaica Plain.

Penn R. R. Seeks Loan
Washington, Sept. 2.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a $2,000,000 Reconstruction Corporation Loan.

World Fliers from Berlin at Hokkaido

Osaka, Hokkaido, Japan, Sept. 2 (AP).—Capt. Wolfgang von Oronat, and his companions, who are flying around the world from Germany, arrived in Kalamababu Bay, Paramushiro Island, today.

Road Calls Back 51
New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—The Lackawanna railroad today announced the recall to service of 51 locomotive engineers and firemen.

Do you remember Maurice Baring's vivid story, "The Flapper Wife"? Now she has written a more thrilling, more romantic, more daring and revealing in human sentiments. Mary Faith found the man in whom she could place the future of her fate. What happened when her husband indulged in half loves and rebelled against restraint is told in Miss Burton's amazing new story, "Mary Faith," beginning in the Boston American next Tuesday, Sept. 6.

"FOR THIS MONTH ONLY" 15 PERMANENTS WAVE
Beautiful Soft Waves with Ringlet Ends
Shampoo extra—Expert Operations—Standard Supplies—Cost.
Room 911 — WINTER ST.
Tel. 4231—2nd Floor
Today, in the real value of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of representative for profitable investment.

WHOLE or HALF SUGAR CURED
Ham
First National Markets

LEAN SHORT SHANK
DORACO BRAND
LB 17c
First National Markets

RIB ROAST 25c
Our delicious house-made roast
FACE OF RUMP 33c
A boneless roast of superior quality
SIRLOIN ROAST 49c
Genuine spring-delicious soft white meat
LAMB LEGS 22c
Genuine spring-braised and rolled if desired
LAMB FORES 10c

CORNE BEEF
Cured by our own scientific methods, always uniform in flavor and free from any salty taste.
FANCY BRISKET BEST CUTS 27c
LEAN ENDS NOT WASTFUL 23c
MIDDLE RIBS MILDLY CURED 15c

FANCY FRESH—TO ROAST, FRY OR BROIL
CHICKENS 3 to 3 1/2 Lbs each 23c
SWORDFISH FRESH SLICED 2 Lbs 35c
HADDOCK FRESH CAUGHT—DRESSED AS DESIRED 6c
MACKEREL FRESH—SMALL 6c
HALIBUT FRESH EASTERN 27c
COD STEAK FRESH SLICED 15c

"FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES"
CORN FANCY NATIVE Doz 10c
TOMATOES RED RIPE Doz 2c
CUCUMBERS FANCY Each 2c
BEETS FANCY NATIVE 2 Bunches 5c
CARROTS FANCY NATIVE 3 Bunches 10c
CABBAGE FANCY NEW 3 Lbs 5c
APPLES NATIVE GRAVENSTEIN 10 Lbs 25c
CELERY Bunch 10c
PEACHES 2 Doz 29c
CANEOLOUES Each 10c

SUMMER'S LAST HOLIDAY
features these great Food Values
No matter how or where you spend this last holiday, you'll find the foods you need for any occasion on this list - all of them featured at greatly reduced prices that represent real savings. Do your holiday shopping today in your nearest First National Store.

SUGAR
FINE GRANULATED
10 LBS 43c

GINGER ALE
Millbrook or Finast Dry 12 Bottles 75c
Radio Dry 2 1/2 Doz 25c
Canada Dry 2 1/2 Doz 25c
Cliequot Club No bottle charge 2 1/2 Doz 25c
Other Cooling Drinks
Radio Orangeade - Slightly Sweet 1 1/2 Lbs 40c
Moxie 2 Lbs 25c
Haffenreffer's Light or 5 Bottles 25c
PRICES ON ABOVE FOR CONTENTS ONLY
Rainier Lime Rickey 1 1/2 Doz 17c
Grape Juice Red 2 1/2 Doz 13c
White 2 1/2 Doz 13c

Mayonnaise
FINAST
The last two days of this remarkable value in high quality Mayonnaise
8 oz Jar Pint Jar Quart Jar
10c 19c 37c

Burnham & Lobster
Morill's
NEWLY PACKED No 1/4 TIN 25c
CHATKA 2 No 1/2 TINS 45c
Best Quality

Stuffed Olives
FINAST — A real value with an extremely low price for this week-end.
15 oz GLASS BUCKET 21c

FANCY STOCK
Potatoes 15 Lbs 15c
SUGAR CURED—MACHINE SLICED—RINDLESS
BACON LB 15c
Loaf Cheese WHITE or COLORED LB 19c
Tomato Juice ALICE OF VINENCES Pt Bot 10c
Buckeye Malt DUO MALTED VACUUM PACKED 3 1/2 Lbs 53c
Richmond Relish SWEET 9 oz 19c
Richmond Jelly N.B.C. 2 1/2 Lbs 25c
Flake Butters CHAMPION 2 Pkg 25c
American Pride Assortment Lb 29c
Richardson's Mints 2 1/2 Lbs 19c

FRESH AND DELICIOUS
Pound Cake Your choice of MARBLE, PLAIN or LIGHT FRUIT LB 19c
Raisin Bread LARGE LOAF 8c
MONEY SAVERS
Pabstett Cheese BAKER'S Pkg 14c
Shredded Cocoanut A or Pkg 10c
Chef-boy-a-dee Instant SPAGHETTI DINNER Pkg 33c
Finast Peanut Butter 1 Lb Glass Jar 15c
Kipper Snacks 3 Tin 10c
Finast Catsup 16 oz Bot 14c
Mirabel Preserves ASSORTED FLAVORS 1 Lb 15c
Raspberries No 2 Tin 25c
Del Monte Cherries No 1 Tin 15c
Prize Sliced Bread OR UNSLICED—WHITE Lge Loaf 7c
Gold Dust 42 oz Pkg 17c Bellview Blue 12 oz Pkg 9c

FIRST NATIONAL STORES INC.
PRICES FOR BOSTON AND VICINITY

ADMITS KILLING BROTHER, GIRL IN LOVE CASE

Lima, O., Sept. 2 (AP)—The "quarry murders" of Earl Truett, 20, and his sweetheart, Thelma Woods, 18, in 1931, was solved today, police said, by the alleged confession of Loren Ellsworth Truett, 25, Earl's 23-year-old brother.

The elder brother was arrested last night and confessed, the officers said, in the presence of his mother and father. Jealousy caused by rivalry in love was the motive in downtown Lima the

THROWN INTO QUARRY
The younger Truett and Miss Woods were slain the evening of Memorial Day, 1931. Their bodies, weighted with stones, were found several days later in a water-filled quarry at the outskirts of this city.

In the following 15 months, the slayings remained a mystery, further confused by spurious confessions made by inmates of state penal institutions.

DRINKING PARTY
Loren's confession, police said, told of meeting Earl and Miss Woods in downtown Lima the night of the crime. They bought some liquor, the confession said, and then drove to the quarry. There, the brothers argued about the girl, and Loren got a hammer and struck Earl on the head. "He taken several girls away from me," Loren was quoted as explaining.

Leaving the younger brother dying, Loren returned to the girl, the confession said, and killed her with the hammer, then dropped the bodies in the quarry.

FINAL DAYS 1/2 FARE NANTASKET BEACH

ROUND TRIP .50¢
CHILDREN UNDER 12 .25¢
EVERY DAY A BARGAIN DAY
Free Tickets to Paragon Park
HOURLY BOAT SERVICE
FROM WHARF 10 A. M. TO 6 P. M.
Make Your Reservations Today
FOR ALL-DAY RAIL
THROUGH GOLF AND GOLF SUNDAY—LARGE DAY—AND WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 13
Nantasket Beach, Nantuxet
Adults $1.50 Children .75
Nantasket Beach Steamboat Co.
Box 1, East Town, N. G. B.
NANTASKET BEACH, MASS.

7% PROSPERITY OR DEPRESSION

Hearst 7% shares afford an uninterrupted flow of quarterly cash dividends

INVESTIGATE Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc.
Cumulative Participating Class "A" Shares
Preferred as to Assets and Dividends
"There Is No Substitute for Earnings"

Price $25 a Share
May be purchased as monthly "THURSDAY PLAN"
$5 Down and $2 Monthly
All payments earn 7% from date received

NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED ON Stock Sales Dept., 5 Winter St., Boston, Mass.
Please send detailed information regarding Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc. Class "A" shares.

True to Type SECRET THOUGHTS OF 'IT' GIRLS IMPEND By GILBERT SELDES

In this great boom of prosperity we are having, the new picture, "Strange Interlude," ought to be a success, and with deep respect for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who produced it, I offer my best wishes. It was a difficult job, and, according to report, the difficulties were brilliantly overcome. In O'Neill's original the secret thoughts of the characters were spoken while the other persons on the stage, at that moment, pretended that nothing important was going on; the picture adds a technical device, allowing the thoughts to proceed while the lips of the thinking-speaking characters are motionless. I couldn't imagine a better way myself. All that troubles me is a habit of the movies which has nothing to do with the merits of "Strange Interlude" itself: the habit of imitation.

Even before "Grand Hotel" was produced—but long after it was a stage success and had cost the movie producers a large sum of money—half a dozen other pictures, fundamentally on the same idea, were produced. When Walter Wanger bought "Washington Merry-Go-Round" for a picture, most people hoped—but the producers rushed a lot of other political pictures to the screen. We are now living in the cycle of movie imitations and political exposures. And this suggests that presently we shall see a dozen pictures in which the inner thoughts of characters represented by Clara Bow, Tom Mix and Rin-Tin-Tin's grandsons will be made audible from the screen. The prospect hardly bears contemplation. I beg the movies to give the idea to only a limited number of producers and players, to Mack Sennett for a comedy, to the Marx Brothers and Jimmie Durante and W. C. Fields for a tragedy.

More Advice
And while I am offering advice I would like Jimmie Durante to be taken out of Buster Keaton pictures and Harpo Marx to be forced to talk. In "Speak Easily" (which has some of the funniest moments ever, in spite of being a long-drawn-out and dullish picture) Jimmie Durante is obviously being played down. In "Horse Feathers" (which is closer to the Marx Brothers' top than most people think) Harpo is unfunny chiefly because he has to go to such efforts to avoid talking, and his exquisite harp playing is tiresome.

And, reverting to "Strange Interlude," it must be a better movie than a play because it doesn't take as long as the play, which was windy and overblown and puffed up and pretentious, and made a virtue of its great defect—that Mr. O'Neill could not suggest what his people meant except by soliloquies, and which was great in only one scene—which was as direct as Isaac or George S. Kaufman. If anyone fails to like it, let him remember that as a play it was an intellectual phoney, not one-tenth as fine as O'Neill's "Mourning Becomes Electra"; and let the moviemakers remember that they have already had too much talk in their pictures while they were at least trying to keep some action going; to suspend action altogether in favor of talk is suicidal.

Now that jokes about motor cars are out, it may be reported that America uses 30,000,000,000 tin cans a year—at least that is the figure I heard at a recent lecture. Obviously something must happen to those cans; the speaker suggested that in fullness of time they would all disappear in the beds of rivers and oceans and return to the slythian slime from which all life rose. Yet in the process the level of the seas should rise, and if we exhausted tin cans faster than the ocean could absorb them we would all be inundated by salt water, and so our civilization would perish.

Shaw's Idea
It makes me think of Shaw's fantasy of the future in which all England is dominated by Breakages, Ltd., the company which reduces old cars, used desks, worn-out filing cabinets, bottles and tin cans to some sort of pulp, and charges heavily for the service. Meanwhile in the way of any technical improvement which will prevent cars and cabinets from being too soon discarded. Breakages, Ltd., is the symbol of waste, implying that the entire purpose of all our factories and advertising is to make us buy things which are easily destroyed. Profit, in that view, comes not from building a house which lasts forever, but in selling 10 houses which crumble in two years.

The economists and moralists are both aghast; and we, looking around us in the year of bad debts 1932, are not so pleased. But while we had it waste wasn't such a bad idea. And in this great, great boom of prosperity we may slip right back to it again.

(Copyright, 1932, by Boston Evening American.)

Advertisement
Lost Ugly Fat
Her Husband Says She Looks 5 Years Younger!
There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her levellest—not any underweight nor portly overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband and I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who, thanks to her daily doses of Kruschen Salt—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that the best considerable weight loss is gained by taking Kruschen Salt, I started using them in July last when I weighed 115 lbs. I lost weight steadily since then, and am now 97 lbs. I feel five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss except Kruschen Salt as I do not take any medicine."

Write to: Mrs. M. London, England. A bottle of Kruschen Salt will last you as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the water and use many pounds you have lost. Attention to the salt—do not use a spoon. After using one jar—get a new one. Kruschen Salt is safe for your health and it is the only salt in the world and if the results are better do not delay—order Kruschen Salt today from Kruschen Salt Co., New York City.

Mussolini Greeted Italy Olympic Team

Rome, Sept. 2 (AP)—Premier Mussolini embraced the leaders of the Italian Olympic team today and told them the progress Italian sports is making toward victory for the team at Berlin in 1936. "Your achievements are important not only to the sporting scene," he said, "they also have political and national significance."

Germans, Americans Quit Mountain Climb

Trostberg, Germany, Sept. 2 (AP)—The German-American Himalaya expedition, which set out in July to climb the 26,000-foot peak, Nanga

Parbat, on the western frontier of Kashmir, India, has been obliged to give up its objective because of severe illness among the party, which will return to Germany.

Boy Hurt in Crash

Warren Wattlauser, 8, of 3015 Crest rd., Belmont, received serious injuries yesterday when he crashed into an auto while riding on a scooter.

Houghton's

Houghton & Dutton Tremont at Beacon

Good News! Store open all day Saturday!

Here's that new formality at a most informal price!

VELVET DRESSES

9.95

A Special Group in Misses' Sizes

If you read your Vogue... you'll know that velvet is queening the mode for that slightly more formal frock this fall. Its soft, drapable texture and flattering pile will particularly appeal if you want your frocks, slinky and swanky. Three styles are sketched. We've half a dozen more and all are made of supple transparent velvet... sizes 14 to 20... simply knock-out for 9.95.

Gorgeous wine shades... rich browns... and black

Let your travel coat be collared in fur

15.95

Our fall gown includes both women's and misses' sizes priced at

What's an Autumn wardrobe without a travel coat? It's incomplete to say the least, and when an all-round utility coat has chic as well, why be without one? These coats are made of smart new tweeds with large flattering collars of French heaver (dyed rabbit), Manchurian wolf (dog), and Dimka fox.

These are style-right shoes with the arch fitting feature... not the heavy, clumsy comfort-only, arch types.

New Fall SNUG-ARCH Shoes

A smart shoe without comfort is as big a loss as a comfort-shoe without style, here the two are cleverly combined in a shoe so outstanding for quality at a price so outstandingly low, that complete ease plus 1932 fashion is well within your reach. You can choose at 2.95, black or brown suede oxfords with Cuban heels, a favorite this fall and black or brown kid oxfords, both step-in and strap.

Vogue Says: "more than half the hats made for fall are VELVET"

Wear it low over your right eye
At 1.88

... the very new English boater of stitched velvet with naive little veil.

Wear the bow right in the middle
At 2.88

A soft hand-draped transparent velvet turban with perky little bow.

Wear at right angle, low over eye
At 3.75

Note the new side roll brim and the pert Agnes bow.
Houghton's second floor

Chiffon... service SILK HOSE

Brownwood! Duskbrown! Nomad! Haze beige! Taupe-mist!
Don't make the mistake of wearing light stockings this fall. Darker and darker grow the tones, a few... we've listed above. They're in NOW in our marvelous 44c stockings with the extra feature that make for quality.
Houghton's second floor

2.95

SALES TAX FOR ILLINOIS URGED

Chicago, Sept. 2.—A special sales tax will be the chief legislation considered at the special session of the Illinois State Assembly which convenes next Wednesday, State Senator Martin R. Carlson said in an address here.

The special session was called to provide further funds for the state's relief situation. Senator Carlson advocated the sales tax to replace other taxes.

Three alternative measures will be offered, Carlson said, and one must be passed to meet the emergency of unemployment which has hit Illinois hard, especially in the Metropolitan district of Chicago.

One will be a statewide sales tax bill, another a sales tax bill by which each county may raise funds to meet relief requirements and the third an enabling act to empower counties to issue bonds to meet the emergency, the bonds to be paid for by the state treasurer from gasoline tax funds allocated to the counties.

In Politics

People You Know Gossip About

HURLEY DAY AT RAIL GAME
Representative John Edward Hurley day will be observed at Braves field tomorrow when more than 10,000 boys and girls will attend the Braves-Philadelphia game as the guest of the youthful Democratic legislator.

Hurley, who is seeking re-election in Ward 18, arranged for the admission of the children, all under 18, with Judge Fuchs, president of the Braves. The life and drum corps of St. Ann's Church, Dorchester will play between innings.

TORCHLIGHT FOR ROOSEVELT
The old political torchlight procession will be revived in the current campaign. If former Rep. Thomas J. Giblin of Jamaica Plain has his way, Giblin has suggested to the Democratic campaign managers that a motorist parade be staged in Boston just before election day.

HIS 55 FRIENDS LEGION
They are telling a story in Democratic political circles of a certain Democratic candidate for a rather important office who has sent out 10,000 letters beginning: "As you are one of my 55 closest friends."

Governor Ely, taking advantage of the week's recess of the executive council, is resting for a few days off from his duties at the State House. He expects to be back at his desk next Tuesday.

KELHER ENDORSED
President Joseph Fogarty of the Progressive Club of Ward 13 announced today that his organization, a non-partisan group, has endorsed the candidacy of Sheriff John A. Kelher for re-election.

SINGS FOR LAWRENCE
Miss Sheila O'Donovan, Rose of the municipal employment bureau will sing at the Labor Day exercises on the Common at Lawrence.

METER-READER SICK
John McKee, meter-reader in the municipal water service, is on the sick list.

SANTOSUSSO ENDORSED
The Colmar Club, East Boston, composed of 800 voters in the Noddle Island, unanimously endorsed the candidacy of Dr. Joseph Santosussio, Democratic nominee for secretary of the Commonwealth, last evening. Dr. Santosussio has also received the endorsement of the Ward 20 Democratic Club.

CHARGE ERRORS IN JUDD TRIAL

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 2 (AP)—An appeal charging 12 errors by the trial court was on file in the state supreme court today in the case of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, under sentence to be hanged for the murder of Mrs. Agnes Ann Lerol.

One of the points of the brief asks the court to pass on the question of legal insanity and to define the term. Another charges the trial court with failure to give an instruction to the jury on self-defense as mitigation for the killing.

Mrs. Judd's counsel admitted there was no self-defense evidence in the record of the case, but held that a letter, written by Mrs. Judd to her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, and which had been introduced by the state, was sufficient reason to require instruction.

The letter related a purported fight between Mrs. Judd, Mrs. Lerol and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, who also was killed.

Death Takes G. A. R. Vet
Sidney R. Colburn, 85, of Natick, one of six members of General Wadsworth Post 65, G. A. R., is dead here.

TEXAS PRIMARY PROBE ASKED

Austin, Tex., Sept. 2 (AP)—The Texas Senate had under consideration today a resolution authorizing legislative investigation of last Saturday's Democratic runoff primary in which Gov. R. S. Sterling has charged many illegal ballots were cast.

Virtually complete unofficial tabulations of the election bureau show Sterling trailing Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, former chief executive by early 2400 votes.

Fog-Bound Flying Family Joins in Singing Hymns
Mrs. Blanche Hutchinson radios another chapter of the adventures of the flying family exclusively to International News Service, through the American Radio News Corporation, Station WRH.

By MRS. B. HUTCHINSON (Copyright, 1932, by International News Service, Inc.)

Hopdale, Labrador, Sept. 2.—You kept us in Hopdale yesterday, but we hope to take off today for Good-had, Greenland, on the next leg of our flight to London.

Kathryn and Janet Lee are getting ready to go.

Fog-Bound Flying Family Joins in Singing Hymns

Using light geography first hand, they made friends with the Eskimo children easily, and have been trading balloons for Eskimo knick-knacks.

Yesterday we attended the mid-week church services conducted by the Moravian mission.

The services were conducted in the Eskimo language, and the children and I joined in singing the Eskimo hymns, which were easy to follow.

The Moravian mission is doing remarkable work among the Eskimo here.

The northern lights are a rare sight, and we are all glad to have this chance to see the new lands and people.

We are omitting the scheduled stop at Nain, Labrador, as we found a sufficient gasoline supply here.

If the weather is good, my next dispatch will be from Greenland.

With penetrating insight Beatrice Burton, author of "The Flapper Wife" and other human interest stories, has again portrayed a great problem of young married people. A devoted young wife asked to a playboy husband. Shall she stand by him or take the easy way out? Read "Merry Faith," beginning next Tuesday, Sept. 6, and see how one girl worked out her fate.

With penetrating insight Beatrice Burton, author of "The Flapper Wife" and other human interest stories, has again portrayed a great problem of young married people. A devoted young wife asked to a playboy husband. Shall she stand by him or take the easy way out? Read "Merry Faith," beginning next Tuesday, Sept. 6, and see how one girl worked out her fate.

They Satisfy
... all you could ask for!

"I like 'em!"

Smokers like a lot of things about Chesterfield.

But most of all they like the milder better taste that comes from choice tobaccos blended the Chesterfield way.

It's the flavor and aroma of ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos "seasoned" with just enough Turkish but not too much.

Good—they've got to be good to make smokers say "They Satisfy!"

Chesterfield

They Satisfy ... all you could ask for © 1932, LUXURY & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

DUCKLINGS

fancy Massachusetts natives

AT A&P MARKETS

17¢ LB

other market specials
BONELESS ROAST FOR POT OR OVEN
Undercut	Lb.	29¢
AN EXCELLENT ROAST
Face Rump	Lb.	33¢
BEST QUALITY CORNED BEEF
Fancy Brisket	Lb.	27¢
GENUINE SWING
Lamb Legs	Lb.	22¢
BROED AND ROLLED IF DESIRED
Lamb Fores	Lb.	10¢
GOBEL'S SKINLESS
Frankforts	Lb.	25¢
FRESHLY MADE
Potato Salad	Lb.	10¢
FRESH SLICED
Steak Cod	Lb.	12¢
AT ALL A&P FOOD STORES Sunnyfield HAMS Lb. 17¢ All Surplus Fat Removed WHOLE OR HALF FRESH FRUITS & VEGETABLES
Bananas	5 LBS.	17¢
Oranges	Extra Large 29¢ Doz. 25¢ Med. 14½¢
Apples	Native Gravenstein	8 LBS. 19¢
Elberta Peaches	6 LBS.	25¢
Iceberg Lettuce	Western 2 HDS.	15¢
Corn	DOZEN	12¢
Tomatoes	2 LBS.	3¢
Cucumbers	2 FOR	3¢

Prices for Boston and Vicinity
Encore Mayonnaise	8 OZ. JAR	10¢
Chatka Crab Meat	2 NO. 15 CANS	45¢
Encore Stuffed Olives	PT. BOT.	29¢
Borden's Cheese	American or Pimento 2 1/2 LB. PKGS.	25¢
Sultana Tuna Fish	Light Meat 2 NO. 14 CANS	25¢
Sliced Beef	3 1/2 OZ. JAR	15¢
Sandwich Spread	RAJAH 8 OZ. JAR	25¢
Fruits for Salad	DEL MONTE 2 NO. 1 CANS	29¢
Elmwood Chicken	5 1/2 OZ. JAR	39¢
Blue Peter Sardines	6 NO. 14 CANS	25¢
Top Mast Sardines	4 NO. 14 CANS	25¢
B & M Beans	RED KIDNEY—PEA or YELLOW EYE 2 CANS	27¢
B & M Brown Bread	2 CANS	23¢
Marshmallows	ANGEL FOOD 3 10 1/2 OZ. BOX	25¢
American Pride	NBC FANCY ASSORTMENT PKG.	29¢
Kipperd Snacks	3 CANS	10¢
Deviled Ham	UNDERWOOD'S 2 NO. 14 CANS	23¢
Ivory Soap	LARGE SIZE 3 BARS	23¢

HOLIDAY BEVERAGE SUGGESTIONS
Clicquot Club	Pale or Golden GINGER ALE 2 BOT.	25¢
Yukon Club	Pale or Golden GINGER ALE 12 OZ. BOT. (contents only)	75¢
Haffenreffer	Stout or Sparkling Contents Only 5 BOT.	25¢
Nectar Teas	Formosa—Mixed—India 1/2 LB. Ceylon—Orange Pekoe PKG.	19¢
Moxie	Contents Only 2 BOT.	25¢
Za-Rex Syrups	Assorted Flavors 2 BOT.	45¢
Grandmother's Bread	SLICED OR UNSLICED 20 OZ. LOAF	7¢
LUCKY STRIKES—CHESTERFIELDS—OLD GOLDS
CIGARETTES	2 PKGS.	25¢
Chesterfields or Lucky Strikes	TIN OF 50	27¢

A&P FOOD STORES of NEW ENGLAND
The Great ATLANTIC & PACIFIC Tea Company

PATTERED BRAVE HOME, FULL OF FIGHT

START DRIVE AT WIGWAM TOMORROW

By JOE CASHMAN

Our Braves are back home to-day after a West and Western trip which knocked them out of the pennant fight. They aren't cheering; neither are they crying.

They are greatly disappointed over their failure to hold their own on the trails, yet they are as full of pep and fight as ever, and are determined to be the first Boston club to finish in the first division in a decade. They hope to start a winning drive against the Cubs which they face tomorrow.

There was no smile on Manager R. H. McKeen's face as he reviewed the past and talked of the future, but there was a strong note of optimism running through his brief homeward speech.

BLAINE'S BAD LUCK
"Bad luck far more than poor playing was largely responsible for our temporary collapse in the West," he declared. "More than half of our defeats were by a margin of one run."

"We forced the league-leading Cubs to travel 19 inches, and in 15 innings on the second half of the season to beat us. One of our defeats in St. Louis also came in overtime. We captured the only game the Cubs dropped to an Eastern club."

"Our pitching, hitting and fielding were almost as strong as when we were on the road."

"Consequently, I have high hopes that we will be able to retain a lofty position during our final long home stand which starts tomorrow."

"My players feel the same way. No doubt about that. They could all find use for that extra money that is awarded for finishing close to the top."

BLAINE'S BIG TO CLICK

"Another reason for my optimism is the fact that we haven't enjoyed a really successful home stay all season and it's now the worst for even the weakest of clubs to go through. Consequently, without running wild through at least one long stretch on its own back yard."

"We'll meet with plenty of opposition from the Phillies and Cards in our efforts to get back to the top of the league. I think we'll come through."

McKeen's expression seemed so highly satisfied with the work of first baseman E. J. "Doc" Foss that an outfielder from St. Louis, his new regular.

GOLDBERG'S CARTOONS

MR. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

I LOOK FOR E. J. Foss and Max Baer to meet in a return bout in view of the spectacular ending of their roundabout at the Chicago Stadium.

Boston is the not for such a contest. Schaaf has been defeated in this contest in a round under the Blue.

"We forced the league-leading Cubs to travel 19 inches, and in 15 innings on the second half of the season to beat us. One of our defeats in St. Louis also came in overtime. We captured the only game the Cubs dropped to an Eastern club."

"Our pitching, hitting and fielding were almost as strong as when we were on the road."

"Consequently, I have high hopes that we will be able to retain a lofty position during our final long home stand which starts tomorrow."

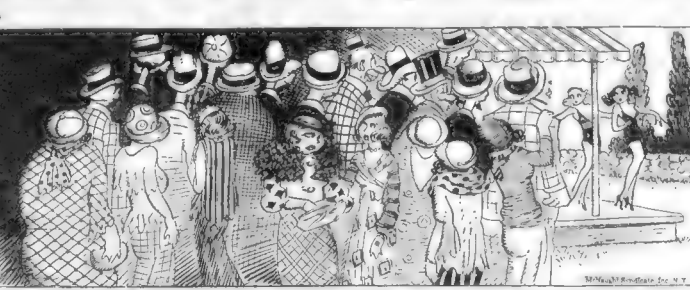

"My players feel the same way. No doubt about that. They could all find use for that extra money that is awarded for finishing close to the top."

BLAINE'S BIG TO CLICK

"Another reason for my optimism is the fact that we haven't enjoyed a really successful home stay all season and it's now the worst for even the weakest of clubs to go through. Consequently, without running wild through at least one long stretch on its own back yard."

"We'll meet with plenty of opposition from the Phillies and Cards in our efforts to get back to the top of the league. I think we'll come through."

McKeen's expression seemed so highly satisfied with the work of first baseman E. J. "Doc" Foss that an outfielder from St. Louis, his new regular.

That's Life

LEGION SERIES FINALE IS ON TODAY

Manchester, N. H. Sept. 2.—Spent and New Orleans have been named to play the American Legion series finale today. The game will be played at the Legion grounds in Manchester. The series was won by the New Orleans team in the first game. The second game was a tie. The third game was won by the New Orleans team. The fourth game was won by the Manchester team. The fifth game was won by the New Orleans team. The sixth game was won by the Manchester team. The seventh game was won by the New Orleans team. The eighth game was won by the Manchester team. The ninth game was won by the New Orleans team. The tenth game was won by the Manchester team.

WINTHROP T. T. MEETS HYDES TONIGHT

Still battling to take both halves of the Suburban Tennis Club championship, the Hyde Shoe 2-2 will meet Al Bianchi to the bill tonight against the Winthrop Tennis Club at Lincoln Park, Somerville. And it looks as though the Hyde shoe will win the second half tonight with Bianchi, one of the best men pitchers around this side of the woods, doing the work.

Fields Going Abroad to Fix Damaged Eye

New York, Sept. 2 (AP)—Jackie Fields, welterweight boxing champion of the world, was to arrive today on a ship to New York. He is about to receive a new eye for an eye.

Kathrine Winthrop Wins Tennis Title

Philadelphia, Sept. 2 (AP)—Kathrine Winthrop, 20, won the title of the Eastern Tennis Club at the Philadelphia Tennis Club. She defeated her opponent in the final round.

Week's New York Stock Exchange

Aggregate market value of 19 leading issues:
Monday 6,943,937.86
Tuesday 6,874,049.00
Wednesday 6,790,000.00
Thursday 6,411,137.00

All roads lead to the TYDOL PUMP!

Fish Game

By WIN BROOKS

Long Casts and Baitish
M. J. Munay, of Ayer, writes in to say the Squamacooc river, not Squamacooc, at Townsend, regardless of the name, the state will establish a public fishing ground.

Bernard Marcovitch reports that the bass of Hancock county are off a crawfish diet for the first time in years. . . . Harry L. Smith, Rhode Island guide who showed G. D. Pichet where the sweetfish live, writes under date of Monday last: "Yesterday I caught 47 tuna on rock, today 35, five or six pound bluefish, Great many bluefish here." . . . And in Buzzards Bay bluefish are being caught in div where Grover Cleveland used to fish for them—for the first time since Grover Cleveland used to fish.

Margie McGraw Horner, short story writer, has a goldfish pond on the grounds of her Milton home and gets this pool, surprisingly, the other evening. Frank McLean dropped three line kivers, one died of the goldfish.

afternoon's angling . . . Of course the kivers were supposed to eat the goldfish but the goldfish really killed the kivers. . . . So McLean is trying to catch something bigger than kivers. . . .

Brainerd Kenning is back from several days' fishing at the headwaters of the Merrimack. . . . But at 25 cents a quart (crabs and hoppers) $1.11 a day may be procured near the Coast Guard station. . . . But get there early on Sunday for a boat because at 7:30 on Sunday morning, all the available boats had been hired.

Richard Lawton and John McKeen, also took some nice fishing near the Saddle Rocks as 2 to 3 inch trout were taken.

STUBBLEFIELD TO DRIVE HERE

Stubby Stubblefield, whose streamer car holds several world records, will drive in the Great feature race at Riverside Speedway Monday afternoon.

Alvin Brown, Mill Marion, Bobby Hill, Ray Carter, Doc Macken, and other drivers will also be in the race. Stubblefield is the favorite to win.

Mat Results
At Townsend—Frank Johnson, 1932, 4.00; Alvin Brown, 1932, 4.00; George Johnson, 1932, 4.00.

TAP'S TRIPLE COMBINATION

Prices go up and down, but the old numbers have a trick of appearing on certain days. The astrologer says it is because the stars control the figure in the world. Well, all the numbers are in the local figures, anyway. And in the cartoon find what the figure for the day's number. It's an idea to play with.

Runs for the Week

AMERICAN LEAGUE	From Aug. 26 to Sept. 3
Boston	131.4
Cleveland	130.2
Chicago	128.5
Detroit	131.4
New York	131.4
Philadelphia	131.4
St. Louis	131.4
Washington	131.4

NATIONAL LEAGUE

NATIONAL LEAGUE	From Aug. 26 to Sept. 3
Boston	131.4
Cleveland	130.2
Chicago	128.5
Detroit	131.4
New York	131.4
Philadelphia	131.4
St. Louis	131.4
Washington	131.4

DRIVE where you will over the Labor Day holiday . . . you'll be within reach of a TYDOL pump.
Try the revolutionary New TYDOL . . . fresh from the refinery . . . packed with extra miles, with extra power, with extra premium quality at no extra cost . . . The only gasoline that actually proved its superiority over 16 rival fuels by actual road test.

Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation
60 Cambridge St., Allston, Mass.
Tel. Stadium 2330

GET THE NEW TYDOL

ALWAYS USE VEEDOL MOTOR OIL . . . 100% PENNSYLVANIA AT ITS FINEST

THIS IS LIFE

SOVIET LEADS WAY BACK TO TRED AND RUE
SCHOOL METHODS

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

SOMETIMES THE NEWS from Russia is good news. The latest announcement ought to be highly encouraging for every body over here who still believes in the "old-fashioned" school. The Soviet government, to paraphrase a news despatch, has apparently admitted that the radical classroom methods which were a part of the Soviet educational regime have failed. The implication is that henceforth the good old methods which were in vogue everywhere before the new wave of experimentation hit our educators will be insisted upon in Russia, too.

The press despatch as usual left out a great deal. I am highly in favor of that little campaign which F. P. A. of the Herald-Tribune is waging in his Coming Tower column. Daily he reprints bits of news, with the object of pointing out that the reporter or the editor or the proprietor has not been curious enough and has thereby left out important and interesting details. This crusade for the encouragement of curiosity in newspapers is highly worth while.

Teacher Takes Charge Again

The one comment from this side which I have seen on the question is the statement by the founder of the Dalton System in America, denying that it is the Dalton System which has been weighed in the balances and found wanting. The despatch I read said nothing about any particular system, but the Dalton System will serve as well as another as a horrible example. If the "progressive methods" have been outlawed, I hope the Dalton System goes with the rest.

That system, if my memory holds, does not believe in daily assignments, in formal classroom exercises, in recitations, or anything of that sort. The "teacher"—that had, outmoded old term—merely gives out a month's work to the child and lets the child tackle it as best he may. The "teacher" hangs around to be consulted if necessary, otherwise it is up to the child. If he wishes to waste his time, why, he wastes his time! I know that I shouldn't dare risk that method on a college student let alone a small boy or girl.

Another "progressive" idea which the Soviet educational system is giving up is the group control of the classroom by the students. The announcement says specifically that henceforth the teacher will resume "control" of his class and teach it. Heretofore, each class has been a little Soviet, run on the principle of a debating club, with the students deciding what they want to do and what conclusions they wish to come to.

The "group discussion" method is a favorite device of American teachers, particularly college teachers, who seem not to be able to spend 50 minutes "teaching" a class. A discussion group is a very pleasant way of passing an hour. Almost any class can be stretched out to that length of time, particularly if the class contains only two or three pupils with the gift of gab. It is pleasant for the teacher because he does not have to work teaching. It is pleasant for the student because he does not have to prepare with any specific material. He can just discuss. The three or four glib boys will talk their heads off and the rest of the class will sit in sullen silence, bitterly resenting having to listen to the ideas of their fellows whom they do not respect and getting nothing except an occasional steer from the teacher whose business it really is—he being supposed to be an expert—to teach.

Group Progresses, Individual Suffers

The idea is to develop the group, at the expense of the individual. In Russia, I understand, the method was carried so far as to take the control of the class entirely out of the teacher's hand, which is also the ideal of many of our "progressive" schools. It's lots of fun and excellent training for pure democracy and mob rule.

Another significant point is that, henceforth there will be less communist propaganda and more instruction in basic subjects. That applies also to some of our private schools over here. A recent article in the August Scribner's by a young man named Rerovitch, called "A Radical Childhood," described among other edifying matters the method at the "Peters School" where the youthful Will Durant was a teacher. "In and out of his hospitable doors came and went J. W. W., Anarchists, Socialists and other malcontents." Later he went to a regular public school. "The banality of the place disgusted me. No discussions on sex and revolution, no excitement, no excitement. For twenty years ago America was trying out what Russia is just discarding."

And, finally—and this is really important—examinations are to be restored and given frequently. The government has realized that the go-as-you-please system of the past has "failed to turn out really literate people," just as our progressive-canted systems over here are failing. So strong does the government feel that it has prohibited "the so-called extreme experimentation designed to continue laboratory methods in education." All this, apparently, has to do with the lower schools, but the promise is given that the process will soon extend to the admittedly incompetent methods of university teaching.

It is hard to appreciate sufficiently the importance of all this as an example to America. There are hundreds of important and influential educators in America who would like nothing so much as the opportunity to let the Russian experimental teachers had. Here was a clean sweep. The old Marxist methods were pulled up root and branch. The government, apparently, turned to the radical educators everywhere. They were given carte blanche to do as they pleased. Education was to be a new revelation, a proletarian group-opportunity community learning. No recitations, no discipline from above, no examinations, students' group control. All the shibboleths of all the progressives in action.

And now in less than 10 years the government gives it up as a bad job, realizes that it is not turning out a literate people, let alone competent mechanics, technologists and scientists. Being an extraordinarily sensible and realistic government—as its recent changes of policy have shown—it determines to go back to the old tried and true methods of child training and instruction, which so many of us are fools enough to wish to abandon.

For the first time I really begin to feel that Russia will succeed. With German educational efficiency applied to communist organizations there no limit to what may be accomplished. The chief obstacle to success is going to be abolished. Children are going to be made to learn and made to obey. The progressive school ideas are a pleasant enough diversion for the children of the rich who do not have to work for a living; they turn out charming people; but for the working class they are an expensive luxury. Russia knows enough to know that it cannot afford luxuries.

A few more years of our present difficulties may possibly bring us back to earth in these matters. For we certainly can expect the well-to-do products of the "progressive" private school systems to get out of the mess they have got us into.

Copyright, 1935, by Boston Evening American.

Largest Evening Circulation in New England—By More Than 75,000

FIRST WITH LATEST NEWS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

BOSTON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1932

GREATER
BOSTON NEWS

NEW SYSTEM SPEEDS WELFARE FRAUD PROBE

Blonde Hit and Run Driver Fined $100 in Crash Trial

SAW THE ECLIPSE AT SEA

KAY PROUDERER ANNE BRODERICK
The Misses Kay and Anne Broderick of Belmont as they returned today from Bermuda aboard the liner Prince Henry. They witnessed the eclipse while at sea. (Staff photo.)

POLICE CHECK
200 CASES
PER DAY

City Starts Court Action
Against Three More Relief Fakers

Spurred on by a new co-operative spirit, the welfare department today began a check-up on the first 21 "unworthy" cases discovered by the police department in the second batch of 100 cases submitted for investigation.

In addition to the apparently countless cases a number of persons among the 100 were found to have criminal records.

THREE SPEEDY
Following a conference between police and welfare officials yesterday, the investigation is going forward with renewed vigor and it is expected that from now on more than 300 cases a week will be handled by the police.

Starting today, Commissioner Hultman will forward 200 names each day to the welfare department and welfare officials have guaranteed that within two days after the names are received their records will be ready for the police to check against.

If this co-operation ends in Commissioner Hultman said it may be possible later on to handle 2000 cases a week.

ASSAULT Corporation Court Hale Power will file writs of attachment against three more public welfare fakers in municipal court tomorrow as a result of investigation. The investigation of the fakers has been going on since the beginning of the year next week in Court Power will prepare for prosecution on charges of larceny and obtaining funds under false pretenses.

The visitant staff of the welfare department will be reorganized Monday when 50 visitors will be re-organized. The department may devote the rest of the year to the re-organization.

BRIGHTON MAN DRINKS
Poison as He Buys It

In the presence, police say, of a dozen customers, Norman Wade, 29, of South End, N. B., last night walked into a drug store at South End and N. B., and ordered a bottle of poison. He was told to drink it in an attempt, according to authorities, to end his life. At St. Elizabeth's Hospital police say Wade admitted being dependent.

HIT-RUN GIRL'S VICTIMS

Miss Frances Naughey and Marshall S. Rounds, both of Medford, who, with Rounds' daughter, Dorothy, were the girl when it was struck by the "hit and run girl's" auto. The girl driver, Miss Leontine Stockbridge of Roslindale, was fined $100 and given a three months' suspended sentence in Cambridge today. (Staff photo.)

6 FIREMEN PUT FINE TUFTS AS ON PENSION
A surprise bulletin issued by fire Commissioner John H. Heron of Malden today, a fire captain, a lieutenant and four privates were placed on the pension list, effective Sept. 1. No intimation had been given that any firemen were to be put on the list.

The men named are Capt. John J. Connell of Linden station, Lieut. Edward R. Nicola of Maplewood station, a brother of Fire Chief John T. Nicola, and Privates Richard L. Tait, of Lexington station, Fred K. Palmer of Ashland station, and Harry W. Field and Morris J. Gonsky of Crest station. Heron declared the retirements would cost $2,000 a year, or the payroll for the vacancies will not be filled.

New Orders Keep Malden Mills Busy
Because of orders for the new line of sweaters, Malden's knitting mill will operate a full holiday week this week and no holiday will be observed Monday.

One of the T. J. DeBianco family, a 10-year-old girl, was killed by a car on South End, on questioning on the slaying of Miss Carrie Stewart, 14, of this week and no holiday will be observed Monday.

3-MONTH TERM SUSPENDED
BY COURT

Miss Leontine Stockbridge
Changes Her Plea to Guilty;
Medford Victim Testifies

Changing her previous plea of not guilty to one of guilty, Miss Leontine Stockbridge, 22, of Sunset Hill rd., Roslindale, was fined $100 today in East Cambridge court and given a three months' suspended sentence as a hit-and-run driver.

If the pretty blonde driver had been older, Judge Cushman declared in passing sentence, she would have made the penalties more severe.

Sergeant King of Cambridge police, and Marshall S. Rounds, 45, of Whitney rd., Medford, were the only witnesses. They testified that Miss Stockbridge's automobile had struck the Rounds car at Broadway and Windsor st., Cambridge, and had then sped away, eluding pursuit.

Rounds and his daughter Dorothy, were treated for injuries at Cambridge Hospital. Miss Frances Naughey of Medford was in their car, but was not injured.

City Department Accounts Probed

An alleged shortage or discrepancy of $500 in the accounts of the Cambridge electrical department is being investigated by state auditors and city officials. Mayor Russell said he was withholding action until he received an official report from Theodore N. Waddell, director of the division of accounts at the State House.

Slot Machines Used by Children Seized

After complaints from mothers that children were using lunch money to operate gaming machines, members of the Lynn vice squad raided four stores last night and seized six machines. Owners of the stores will be summoned to court.

Somerville Salary Donation Plan Loses

Mayor Murphy's request to have Francis J. Daley, Somerville solicitor, deduct a day's pay a week for three months from the wages of 1000 city employees including teachers, was tabled last night at a special meeting of the Somerville Board of Aldermen.

Wife Seeks Husband and Missing Maid

Also of the disappearance of her husband, a 30-year-old mother's helper in her home, Mrs. William P. Reisman of West Milton st., Hyde Park, last night appealed to Greater Boston police for aid in finding her husband.

TRAFFIC CIRCLE
RULE CHANGED

A change in traffic rules affecting the Charles st. traffic circle has been announced by the Traffic Commission, all traffic from South End to the intersection of the Charles st. will be turned left.

Traffic on Charles st. from the junction of the North Station and the South Station, will be turning left to the intersection of the Charles st. and the left turn will be prohibited. It will have to follow a route through the underpass under the West Boston bridge.

Friend st. was voted a one-way street from Causeway to Myrtle st. and the left turn was prohibited. The left turn will be prohibited. The left turn will be prohibited. The left turn will be prohibited.

Norton Acting Mayor
James W. Norton, president of the Medford Board of Aldermen will become acting mayor today when Mayor John H. Burke leaves for the American Legion convention.

5 Generations in Reading Family

The birth of Alton Edmund Metcalf, 2d, to Mr. and Mrs. Alton Metcalf of 138 Summer ave., Reading, brings five generations to the family. The youngest's great-grandmother is Mrs. James Jones of East Norwich, Ct.

The baby has four living grandparents and two great-grandparents.

$40,000 BLAZE IN DANVERS

Danvers, Sept. 2.—The city's largest business block is in ruins today following a blaze that swept it last night at an estimated damage of $40,000.

Three firemen who were overcome by fumes from a refrigeration plant are in a serious condition at Hug Memorial Hospital. The other two were overcome. The victims were carried out by companions.

Phone In News Tips, Liberty 4000, and Win $50 in Weekly Prizes

Do you want to make some money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American is presenting the opportunity. Every week a total of $50 in prizes will be offered for news tips telephoned in to the American News-Tip Editor at Liberty 4000. And what is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to the people of Greater Boston and adjacent cities has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an important meeting is scheduled for a certain date, that an accident has happened, that there is going to be a business merger, that a celebrity is coming to town? That's a news tip. There will be given $25 weekly for the best first exclusive news tip received, $10 for the next best, $5 for the next best and $1 prizes for each of the 10 next most valuable tips. The first tip on a story wins. Do not send in minor stories that everyone sees. Good exclusive pictures are wanted, too.

SKIPPY An Unlucky Number

By PERCY CROSBY

BARBERS NOW CHARGE POLICE GIVING FREE HAIR-CUTS

CAPTAIN DENIES MEN WERE IN SCISSORS

East Boston Tonsorial Artists Claim Firemen and Police Are Running Business

From the firemen in the police, the protesting barbers of East Boston swung their attack today.

Now they claim police as well as firemen are giving free hair-cuts to the poor children of the district and hurting the business of the barbershops, maybe.

Nobody thinks the police had time for charity hair-clipping like the firemen have, but some of the leaders of the East Boston Association said to very emphatically today.

CAPTAIN DENIES CHARGE

In fact, Henry Campbell, secretary of the association, says police officers have frequently borrowed clippers for the hair cuts from his own shop in Maverick street. Police Capt. Archie Campbell of Station 7, East Boston, replied very bluntly that positively nothing of the kind charged by the angry barbers was going on in his police station.

The barbers' organization, somewhat split over the whole matter, is meeting last night with the protest meeting against the firemen being held.

PROTEST TO COMMISSIONER

But Anthony Labella, the president, revealed today that the association's attorney, Henry Campbell, has sent a letter of protest to the state commissioner, and that he will send a delegation to see him in person.

Labella would have nothing to say about the police angle of the protest, but did admit some barbers mentioned this at last night's general meeting.

For their part, the firemen don't deny the free haircuts, except that the children are being sent around with one hair cutting from the hat, and had no intention of patronizing the barbers anyway.

Everett Trio Held for Store Hauls

Three young Everett men, alleged to have confessed to three Boston store burglaries, were today held in connection with the three burglaries. They were held for a hearing Sept. 4. They are Martin O'Brien, 20, of 210 St. Thomas street; John J. Ferry, 21, of 100 St. Thomas street; and Stephen Merritt, 21, of 100 St. Thomas street.

All pleaded not guilty to three counts of armed robbery. They were each held in bonds of $15,000.

'LOVE? IT'S A MOCKERY.' STARS AVOW

Norma Talmadge and George Jessel, whose names have been linked in a new romance in a follow a couple of divorces, declared in Boston today that their living is all a matter of business—they get paid for it. They're at the Metropolitan and it's a business partnership.

Norma Talmadge and Jessel in Laugh at Love

George Jessel, who has made a lot of people laugh, and Norma Talmadge, who has made many women weep, today in Boston today and said they had no romance at all.

Jessel's wife may be in Reno because of a new divorce suit. Talmadge, "violent love," said Jessel, "is just a business partnership."

With that, Jessel launched his story of their collaboration, while Talmadge added a few more. "I was thinking of playing Shrek," he said, "in the comedian's dressing room at the Metropolitan."

"It was a dizzy year to air off with Jessel," Talmadge said. "First I was thinking of playing Shrek in stock at Shogakukan. But I switched to investing in a race track 'bookie' and dropped a few grand there."

"Finally I went to Europe."

CHILD VACATION SHOW TONIGHT

In aid of the Vacation House for the children of the city, a show will be given tonight at the Metropolitan.

The show will be given by the children of the city, and the proceeds will be used for the Vacation House.

The show will be given by the children of the city, and the proceeds will be used for the Vacation House.

The show will be given by the children of the city, and the proceeds will be used for the Vacation House.

The show will be given by the children of the city, and the proceeds will be used for the Vacation House.

GIRL WITH BABE FLEES POLICE IN STORM

17-Year-Old Mother Leaves State Home, Fearing Separation From Her Child

Somewhere in Greater Boston a 17-year-old state girl clung to her 12-day-old infant today, in hiding for fear of separation from her baby.

She fled over a fire escape last night from a temporary home for State wards in Plimpton at West End.

FLEES HATLIPS Hiding, and with a light-weight coat of black over a house dress, the young mother disappeared a few hours after she had been released in the home from a Haverhill hospital.

In those few hours she told her fears. She said she heard that her newborn was to be taken to the other girls in the home: "Till die with my baby first."

The young mother, recorded on her records as Mary Kelly, is a pretty blonde, tall and large for her age.

CAUGHT BY STORM A few hours after her flight the young mother must have been in the center of a downpour that centered over Boston in the early morning.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Officials gave several clues to police that included clues in which the girl had been placed by the police. They pointed mostly to homes in Haverhill in the belief she might seek aid there.

Studies Eclipse

Determination of just what elements cause the glow of the corona may come out of eclipse observations by scientists Wednesday, it was revealed today at the International Astronomical Union meeting at Harvard.

The opening meeting of a series that will end next Friday was also featured by a discussion regarding a change in speed of the earth's rotation around the sun and the suspected irregularity in the moon's roundness.

The scientists disclosed joyfully that their first disappointment over hampering of their eclipse observations by clouds was premature, because in virtually all the larger expeditions there was obtained at least one spectrograph, while some of the expeditions got as many as nine.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

More than 250 leading astronomers of the world had registered today for the week's meeting.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Scientists Study Puzzle of Corona at Harvard

Determination of just what elements cause the glow of the corona may come out of eclipse observations by scientists Wednesday, it was revealed today at the International Astronomical Union meeting at Harvard.

The opening meeting of a series that will end next Friday was also featured by a discussion regarding a change in speed of the earth's rotation around the sun and the suspected irregularity in the moon's roundness.

The scientists disclosed joyfully that their first disappointment over hampering of their eclipse observations by clouds was premature, because in virtually all the larger expeditions there was obtained at least one spectrograph, while some of the expeditions got as many as nine.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any new gas as a result of its eclipse observations was made, however, by K. Hiyomura, director of the Japanese expedition.

Sir Arthur Eddington, F.R.S., director of the Cambridge (England) Observatory and piuman professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, expressed doubt that any "startling discoveries" would come immediately from the scientists' studies of the eclipse.

Whatever may be discovered, he declared, cannot be announced for months.

Measurements of the long bands of red-colored dunes were made permanent on the photographic plates.

Denial that his group has yet discovered any

VALENTINE

THE STORY SO FAR

Valentine Macfarlane is the shy, dreamy daughter of Millie Macfarlane, a widow, whose gay, romantic nature is not spoiled by poverty. Millie goes to the Orient, and Val is taken to her Aunt Julia's. The years pass and Val finds herself falling in love with Joe Carey, her girlhood playmate, but he goes away. She goes to work in an office and meets Lester.

NOW ON ON WITH THE STORY

THE YOUNG MAN moved toward them, into the light. Rich introduced them. She heard his name—"Mr. Sherwood," then dropped her eyes, cautiously. He was so... so just what she wanted... just what she'd always wanted... tall... dark... like Miller's Jim...

She put her hand on his shoulder and he turned to look at her. She was smiling at him. He was smiling at her. She was smiling at him. He was smiling at her. She was smiling at him. He was smiling at her.

"Let me have this dance, will you, Richard?" I just looked into his eyes. I've never seen eyes like that before. Will you, Miss Macfarlane?

"Yes, on ahead and dance, I'll wait," young Nesbitt said graciously. She danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

He danced a few steps. Her feet she thought, hardly touched the floor. She knew that it was absurd to think you've found the one man in the world because he dances like a cat, but she couldn't help it.

How a Young Girl Can Keep Her Boy Friends

By Hazel Livingston

ing up." Aunt Julia said when he had gone.

WOOLING HALT! But the next night he suggested going out, and all Aunt Julia's pictures, her instinctive dislike of men came back.

"Why don't he want to see you?" Aunt Julia said when he had gone.

"Oh, Aunt Julia, it isn't that. He just wants to go out. I've been busy doing I do, you know."

They went for a drive on Boston and on Saturday they went to a downtown movie and then to a ship's place to dance after tea.

"I thought I'd be able to make it," he said.

"Monday, Dorathia Nesbitt in the office said."

"We had the best time Sunday. My friend and I, and Les Sherwood and I, went over to the Sherry Club. We had a perfect picnic—there were no mosquitoes and lots of French beer along the river."

"It was a perfect day. We had a picnic lunch and a drink."

Lester's interest in Val suddenly faded. What does she do? No more of her interest.

One Roof, Two Families DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a widow and the mother of two grown children. We have been living together since their father died at my mother's.

My mother is very meddlesome. She has had nice people in the house which I am not occupying, but they have moved owing to her interference. I am so disappointed I don't know what to do.

Because my girl is 15, and my boy is 20, are unable to find work and all I have is three or four dollars a week to bring into the house.

Please, Miss Fairfax, advise me what I do not also how to get help.

My mother and I do not speak now, and I fear I don't even if she never speaks to me again. If she gives up a fight, she will not let up on me. I thought I had to go to bed, but for some time I have been unable to sleep.

Your position is like that of many of my friends. I am sure that in these trying times, my dear friend, you have had to crowd together under one roof. And the only remedy is the most difficult to apply—patience, tact and love.

As you are the little girl who is able to earn credit, perhaps provide for you and your mother and father, and I am sure you are a good girl, I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it. I am sure you will be able to do it.

Extra Police Will End Work Monday

Federal Employees Muzzled on Bonus

Mobile Hurricane, Storm Menace Ends

NEVER BEFORE! NEVER AGAIN!

Perhaps NEVER AGAIN!

ECCO STORES
Establish a NEW ALL-TIME LOW PRICE LEVEL on

TOMATOES LARGE 1 lb. 10c
CUCUMBERS 1 lb. 10c
GOLDEN BANTAM CORN 1 lb. 10c

Cabbage 3 1/2 5c
Onions 2 1/2 5c
Apples 2 1/2 5c
Beets 2 1/2 5c
Sweet Potatoes 2 1/2 5c

SUGAR 10 lb. bag 43c

COOLING BEVERAGES

American Pale Dry GINGER ALE 12 1/2 oz. 69c
Stout or Sparkling BREW 5 1/2 oz. 25c 6 1/2 oz. 25c

Clicquot Club 2 1/2 25c
Grape Juice 2 1/2 25c
Tonics 2 1/2 10c
Zarex Fruit Syrup 2 1/2 45c
Canada Dry 2 1/2 25c

CRABMEAT or Fancy LOBSTER 2 No. 14 45c

CIGARETTES All 15c Brands 2 pack 25c

R. & R. Chicken 39c
Dried Beef 2 25c
Pabstett 14c
Prudence Hash 21c
Budweiser Malt 53c
Palmolive Soap 19c
Tetley Tea 41c
Granger Tobacco 9c

SMOKED SHOULDERS 11 1/2c

MEAT SUGGESTIONS

HAMS Whole or Half 15c lb. 17c
LAMB FORES 9c LEGS 21c

Milk Fed Fowl 21c
Face of Rump Roast 32c
Chuck Roast 29c
Boiled Ham 29c
Flavorite Hams 25c
Genuine Scotch Ham 29c

FRESH FISH HALIBUT 2 lbs. 33c

ECONOMY GROCERY STORES

For Labor Day

LET BORDEN'S CHEESE JOIN YOUR PARTY!

For Labor Day picnics, Labor Day meals, Labor Day snacks, get Borden's Cheese! This universally loved food can be made into sandwiches quickly and easily. It can be converted into a tempting salad in less time than it takes to tell about it. It can be spread on crackers to appease healthy young appetites. And it's hard to beat just by itself, without any preparation at all!

BORDEN'S CHEESES ARE GREAT...

Was She SAP or SAGE?

AT SUPPER TIME

ON THE BEACH

IN SANDWICHES

WITH COOL DRINKS

FOR BETWEEN-MEAL SNACKS

REFRESHING SALADS

Borden's Fine Cheeses

BOSTON AMERICAN

